Negotiating The New Ocean Regime:

Negotiating the New Ocean Regime Robert L. Friedheim, 1993 The task of the United Nations Conference on the Law of the Sea 1967-82 was to create a new ocean regime. Participants negotiated every major issue of ocean use jurisdiction in the coastal and contiguous zones the territorial sea and the new two hundred mile exclusive economic zone EEZ transit and overflight through straits and archipelagos fisheries management in the EEZs and high seas ocean environmental obligations the right to conduct ocean science and the management of deep seabed mineral exploitation. Negotiating the treaty required more than fifteen years and the consent of more than one hundred and fifty nations. The resulting treaty composed of three hundred and twenty articles plus seven major annexes represents the final product of the largest longest and most complex formal negotiation in modern times. Negotiating the New Ocean Regime analyzes both the substance of the problems at hand what should be done about the oceans and the process of the bargaining and negotiating. With law and history as a background Robert Friedheim uses regime theory and resource economics to analyze ocean problems and bargaining cooperation theory of negotiation. To evaluate the treaty through the eyes of the stakeholders the author employs a multi attribute utility model. Finally he assesses the bargaining system parliamentary diplomacy with consensus as the decisive rule for its usefulness limitations and applicability to other current global problems.

William Zartman, 1994 In a single volume a team of distinguished international scholars draws on a wide range of social science theory to explain the dynamics of bargaining and diplomacy when many parties and many issues are involved. Each contributor explores a different approach to reaching successful agreements among diverse governments multinational corporations and other international actors. To show how these approaches work in actual practice the authors provide detailed analyses of two multilateral negotiations the Uruguay round of negotiations under the General Agreement for Tariffs and Trade GATT and the negotiations leading to the Single European Act consolidating the European Community. The increased length and frequency of such events as the GATT talks the Rio Conference on Environment and Development UNCED and the Law of the Sea Conferences UNCLOS highlight the enormous challenges of complex negotiations among many competing interests. This work sponsored by the International Institute for Applied Systems Analysis offers the first comprehensive understanding of the intricate and complex process of multilateral negotiation. The book provides the tools for analyzing and managing the complexities of multilateral negotiations including how the roots of conflict the distribution of power and specific patterns of resistance and cooperation affect all stages of negotiation how game theory multi attribute utility models and other practical tools can be used to chart interests and identify strategic trade offs before negotiations how negotiation is organization in action applying the rules and culture of organizations to change through a cybernetic process how insights into the way small groups function can help advance negotiations why different modes of leadership are needed to diagnose multinational problems clarify options and develop feasible solutions how and why coalitions are formed and how they can prompt meaningful bargaining and help forge positive lasting agreements
