African American Art and Artists Samella S. Lewis, 1990 Drawing from historical and private collections around the country Samella Lewis has gathered an impressive representation of the work of African American artists from the 18th century to the present For this edition she has provided a new chapter on art of the last decade Handsomely and generously illustrated this book reveals a rich legacy of work by African American painters sculptors and graphic artists Art historical scholarship is greatly advanced by Samella Lewis's African American Art and Artists in that it foregrounds the work of artists who have been influencing the texture of art in the United States during the last two decades of the 20th century Throughout African American Art and Artists Lewis interrogates the issue of identity by presenting the biographical sketch which locates the individual artistic personality within a specific cultural background with its own peculiar dynamics giving a face to two cities of Black American art Without polemics Lewis presents women artists Edmonia Lewis to Allison Saar as principal players in constructing an African American visual arts legacy Here Lewis sufficiently defines the visual arts in order that they may assume their rightful place alongside African American music literature and folklore as cultural expressions that have helped to give American culture its distinct character from the foreword by Floyd Coleman Harvard University New Negro Artists in Paris Theresa A. Leininger-Miller, 2001 This book analyzes the experiences and works of six African American artists who lived and worked in Paris during the Jazz Age More than 120 works of art are analyzed many never before published The author argues that it was study abroad that won these artists critical acclaim establishing their reputations as some of the most significant leaders of the New Negro movement in the visual arts She begins her study with a history of the debut of African American artists in Paris 1830-1914 Black Artists in Their Own Words Lisa E. Farrington, 2025-09-02 The first book to center Black artists voices on Black aesthetics revealing a century of evolving relationships to race identity and art What is Black art No one has thought harder about that question than Black artists yet their perspectives have been largely ignored Instead their stories have been told by intellectuals like W E B Du Bois and Alain Locke who defined a school of Black art in the early twentieth century For the first time Black Artists in Their Own Words offers an insightful corrective Esteemed art historian Lisa Farrington gathers writing spanning a century across the United States the Caribbean and the African continent including from renowned artists Henry Tanner Nancy Elizabeth Prophet Romare Bearden Wifredo Lam Renee Cox and many more that reveals both evolutions and equivocations Many artists especially during the civil rights era have embraced Black aesthetics as a source of empowerment Others prefer to be artists first and Black second while some have rejected racial identification entirely Here Black artists reclaim their work from reductive critical narratives sharing the motivations underlying their struggles to create in a white dominated art world
