Goldberg, 2024-12-10 How Black Atlantic literature can challenge conventions and redefine literary scholarship Abolition Time is an invitation to reenvision abolitionist justice through literary studies Placing critical race theory queer theory critical prison studies and antiprison activism in conversation with an archive of Black Atlantic literatures of slavery Jess A Goldberg reveals how literary studies can help undo carceral epistemologies embedded in language and poetics Goldberg examines poetry drama and novels from the nineteenth century through the twenty first such as William Wells Brown's The Escape Angelina Weld Grimké's Rachel Toni Morrison's A Mercy and Claudia Rankine's Citizen to consider literature and literary scholarship's roles in shaping societal paradigms Focusing on how Black Atlantic literature disrupts the grammar of law and order they show how these texts propose nonlinear theories of time that imagine a queer relationality characterized by care rather than inheritance property or biology Abolition Time offers a framework for thinking critically about what is meant by the term justice in the broadest and deepest sense using close reading to inform the question of abolishing prisons or the police and to think seriously about the most fundamental questions at the heart of the abolitionist movement

And There Was Light Jon Meacham, 2023-10-17 NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER Pulitzer Prize winning biographer Jon Meacham chronicles the life of Abraham Lincoln charting how and why he confronted secession threats to democracy and the tragedy of slavery to expand the possibilities of America Meacham has given us the Lincoln for our time Henry Louis Gates Jr Winner of the Gilder Lehrman Lincoln Prize Longlisted for the Biographers International Plutarch Award One of the Best Books of the Year The Christian Science Monitor Kirkus Reviews A president who governed a divided country has much to teach us in a twenty first century moment of polarization and political crisis Hated and hailed excoriated and revered Abraham Lincoln was at the pinnacle of American power when implacable secessionists gave no quarter in a clash of visions bound up with money race identity and faith In him we can see the possibilities of the presidency as well as its limitations At once familiar and elusive Lincoln tends to be seen as the greatest of American presidents a remote icon or as a politician driven more by calculation than by conviction This illuminating new portrait gives us a very human Lincoln an imperfect man whose moral antislavery commitment essential to the story of justice in America began as he grew up in an antislavery Baptist community who insisted that slavery was a moral evil and who sought as he put it to do right as God gave him to see the right This book tells the story of Lincoln from his birth on the Kentucky frontier in 1809 to his leadership during the Civil War to his tragic assassination in 1865 his rise his self education his loves his bouts of depression his political failures his deepening faith and his persistent conviction that slavery must end In a nation shaped by the courage of the enslaved of the era and by the brave witness of Black Americans Lincoln's story illustrates the ways and means of politics in a democracy the roots and durability of racism and the capacity of conscience to shape events
