Neighbourhood Policy Programs:

Neighbourhood Policy and Programmes Naomi Carmon,2016-07-27 This volume comprised of original contributions by experienced urban planners and distinguished social scientists sets forth the accumulated experience directed at improving the quality of life in our cities through neighbourhood programs Policy issues housing programs and job development plans along with organizational innovations aimed at redistribution of power are described and evaluated Programs in Search of a Policy Michael Dennis,Susan Fish,1972

Revitalizing Urban Neighborhoods William Dennis Keating,Norman Krumholz,Philip Star,1996 Since the 1950s and the advance of urban renewal local governments and urban policy have focused heavily on the central business district However such development has all but ignored the inner city neighborhoods that continue to struggle in the shadows of high rise America This analysis of urban neighborhoods in the United States from 1960 to 1995 presents fifteen essays by scholars of urban planning and development Together they show how urban neighborhoods can and must be preserved as economic cultural and political centers

An Enlarged Europe and Its Neighbourhood Policy Atis Lejins,2004

Neighbourhood Regeneration Rachelle Alterman,1991 This book examines the policies and problems concerning neighborhood renewal in different countries highlighting the measures taken across different sectors Analysis focuses on the interconnections between housing and social welfare physical infrastructure and economic development Evaluates a wide range of government programmes and emphasizes the need to address not only the physical but also the social aspects of urban policy Part 1 discusses a variety of neighbourhood programmes from Western and Eastern Europe Israel Canada and the United States while Part 2 concentrates on difficulties of methodology which researchers and policy makers face

The Town Planning Review Patrick Abercrombie,1991 Urban Planning and the African-American Community June Manning Thomas,Marsha Ritzdorf,1997 How have urban planning policies contributed to racial injustices in American cities Does contemporary urban planning really address and attempt to solve the social and economic problems of African Americans in cities or does it just perpetuate ghetto conditions What have African Americans done to confront injustices in planning Historically race and city design are linked and Urban Planning and the African American Community aims to clarify the historical connections between the African American population and the urban planning profession and to suggest means by which cooperation and justice may be increased The book focuses on the areas of zoning and real estate planning and public policy African American initiatives and responses to urban planning and urban planning education Individual chapters examine the racial origins of zoning in American cities how Eurocentric family models have shaped planning policies applied to African American families the rise of equity planning and its effects the role of race and empowerment in the Model Cities experiment African American experiences with shaping the planning of such cities as Los Angeles Greensboro and Birmingham and provides a plan for diversifying planning education in order to advance the profession The editors also include a chapter of excerpts from important court cases and government reports that have shaped or reflected the racial aspects of urban planning This important new volume bridges the gap between urban planning and issues of race and will be an essential resource for academics and students in urban studies urban planning and race ethnic studies
