Critical Data

Storytelling in the Composition Classroom Angela Laflen,2025-08-15 Critical Data Storytelling in the Composition Classroom provides a timely and essential framework for integrating data literacy into multimodal composition pedagogy Angela Laflen demonstrates that in an era dominated by big data and AI the need to understand how to work with data is no longer limited to scientists and mathematicians Instead data literacy has become a crucial skill for participating in democratic society At the heart of Laflen s approach is critical data storytelling a practice that equips students with the skills to understand interpret and ethically communicate with and about data through various multimodal formats By teaching students to make informed decisions as data storytellers Laflen addresses the ethical implications of working with data while offering practical strategies for reading and analyzing data stories This approach empowers both students and teachers to engage critically with data as a tool for learning and communication It also highlights how multimodal composition has yet to fully account for the central role of data in shaping contemporary communication and argumentation By focusing on the ethical and rhetorical dimensions of data storytelling Critical Data Storytelling in the Composition Classroom presents a pedagogical approach that prepares students for the challenges of working with data in a rapidly evolving digital landscape This flexible adaptable model for teaching critical data literacy is of great interest to writing instructors scholars in rhetoric and composition and educators who seek to prepare students for the demands of a data driven world

Reading as Rhetorical Invention Doug Brent,1992 Noting that teaching the research paper seldom gets below surface conventions this book surveys the work of key theorists in rhetoric past and present and seeks to change the way teachers and students think about the relationship between writers and readers Focusing on theorists who see the creation of knowledge as a social process the book discusses reader response and discourse processing theories and develops a model of how an individual evolves a set of beliefs about the world Chapters of the book are 1 Starting Points 2 Reading as Construction Reading as Communication 3 From Interpretation to Belief 4 The Rhetoric of Reading as a Critical Technique and 5 Implications for Teaching and for the Art of Rhetoric Each chapter includes footnotes and a five page bibliography is attached NKA

Contemporary Rhetoric: a Reader's Coursebook ,1972 A Teacher's Introduction to Composition in the Rhetorical Tradition W. Ross Winterowd,Jack Blum,1994 This book traces the evolution of the growing and everchanging field of composition rhetoric through numerous schools of thought including Platonism Aristoteleanism New Criticism and the modern poststructuralism

Audience and Rhetoric James E. Porter,1992 Offering a new approach to the concept of audience this volume critiques the prevalent audience theories and practices in the field of rhetoric and composition using the archaeological methodology of Michel Foucault The author traces major audience treatments from Aristotle and George Campbell to the present and shows how the dominant approaches are founded on a managerial composing model which assumes that invention is the exclusive activity of the writer Porter argues for the ethical necessity of a social constructionist approach to audience developing out of reader response and poststructuralist theory For anyone involved in the creation of public policy

Contemporary Composition Studies Edith Babin, Kimberly Harrison, 1999-12-30 Composition studies is a rapidly growing and constantly changing field At present however graduate students new to the field and writing teachers who want to make new connections between theory and practice have little choice of current reference works that define key terms in composition studies and provide information about the scholars and researchers who have shaped and are shaping the discipline This book supplies this information in an easily accessible format and places both scholars and terms in the context of the field's development Included are alphabetically arranged entries for 108 individuals who have developed the field and 128 terms central to the discipline The first part of the book provides entries for leaders in composition studies Each entry identifies the areas in which the scholar has contributed most influentially to the field and provides both a chronological overview of the person's contributions and a bibliography of representative works The second part includes entries for terms that are problematic both for newcomers and for those already familiar with the discipline The entries for the terms show how the disciplinary context has shaped the ways in which they have been used The entries also indicate how established thinkers in composition studies and other disciplines have explained or defined the terms provide examples of the terms in context and list scholars often associated with them An appendix includes entries for scholars from other disciplines who have contributed to the field

A Rhetoric Reader Erwin Hester, 1967 The Wild Card of Reading Rodolphe Gasché, 1998-09-30 One of the most knowledgeable and provocative explicators of Paul de Man's writings Rodolphe Gasché a philosopher by training demonstrates for the first time the systematic coherence of the critic's work insisting that de Man continues to merit close attention despite his notoriously difficult and obscure style Gasché shows that de Man's reading centers on a dimension of the texts that is irreducible to any possible meaning a dimension characterized by the absolutely singular Given that de Man and Derrida are both termed deconstructionists Gasché differentiates between the two by emphasizing Derrida's primary interest in writing and postulates that the best way to come to terms with de Man's works is to read them athwart the writings of Kant Fichte Hegel Heidegger and Derrida He shows his respect for the immanent logic of de Man's thought which he lays out in great detail while revealing his uneasiness at the oddness of that thought and its consequences

Longman Bibliography of Composition and Rhetoric, 1984-1985 Erika Lindemann, 1987 Studies in Rhetoric and Public Speaking in Honor of James Albert Winans Alexander Magnus Drummond, 1925

Writing and Reading Differently George Douglas Atkins, Michael L. Johnson, 1985 Simon & Schuster Handbook for Writers Lynn Quitman Troyka, 1987 Building Genre Knowledge Christine Tardy, 2009-07-15 Adopting an interdisciplinary perspective BUILDING GENRE KNOWLEDGE provides a unique look into the processes of building genre knowledge while offering a dynamic theory of those processes that is inclusive of both monolingual and multilingual writers a necessary move in today's linguistically diverse classrooms It will therefore be of great interest to researchers and practitioners in both first and second language writing studies     Beyond Communication Deanne Bogdan, Stanley B.
