A Modern Martyr (Classic Reprint) Theophane Venard, 2015-07-20 Excerpt from A Modern Martyr Theophane Venard was no ascetic saint trembling at every manifestation of human or natural feeling He was eminently a tender and dutiful son a most devoted and loving brother an equally devoted and attached friend Neither did he consider these warm affections incompatible with the great work to which he had given his life His devotion to his sister whom he calls part of his very life shines through every page of this touching and beautiful correspondence She is the first thought of his boyish years she is his last thought in death Yet all this strong human love did not prevent his sacrificing everything to God leaving the home he loved so fondly the sister he idolized the family tie which bound him with what others might have considered iron links everything in fact which made life dear when the voice of the Master called him to go forth from his people and his country into a strange and distant land to preach His word and do His work and save the souls for whom He died upon the Cross This is the striking characteristic of the life before us human love surpassing all ordinary home affections willingly and joyfully offered up on the altar of our Lord for the salvation of the heathen who knew Him not About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works A Modern
