Excerpt from the work A haggard youth knelt before a little furnace kindling a fire with an expression of quiet desperation on his face which made the simple operation strange and solemn A pile of manuscript lay beside him and in the hollow eyes that watched the white leaves burn was a tragic shadow terrible to see for he was offering the first born of heart and brain as sacrifice to a hard fate Slowly the charcoal caught and kindled while a light smoke filled the room Slowly the youth staggered up and gathering the torn 8 sheets thrust them into his bosom muttering bitterly Of all my hopes and dreams my weary work and patient waiting nothing is left but this Poor little book we'll go together and leave no trace behind Throwing himself into a chair he laid his head down upon the table where no food had been for days and closing his eyes waited in stern silence for death to come and take him
