Floating Hogans in Monument Valley Wanda Morlan Eilts, 2007. San Juan Marina near Oljato in Monument Valley, Utah, was an isolated place in 1987 when the author and her husband arrived to manage the new marina on the San Juan river arm of Lake Powell. They fell in love with the surroundings and the Navajo people and culture they encountered. In addition to the daily joy and satisfaction of friendship and hard work, the couple dealt with floods and siltations, murder and drug runners, and graft, greed and corruption. This is the story of Wanda and Terry's sojourn there and how they came back to complete the circle many years later. Book jacket.

Native American Movie Actors E. Dennis King, 2023-05-23. About the book Native American Movie Actors honors those courageously infamous, brave, unsung Native Americans who reenacted in films and emphasizes their plight to preserve the sacred land of their inheritance while displaying the beauty and grandeur of their homeland. Many Hollywood Western movies used hundreds of local Native American people to create box office hits. Yet the faces of these Native Americans, their riding skills and war cries that contributed to their success, never received the proper credit they deserved. E. Dennis King reviews the history of filmmaking with Native American actors as well as the beginning of Western moviemaking in Utah. Through an in-depth look at the history and struggle of the Native American actors, he brings to life the immense talent of their work and the beautiful landscape of their homeland.
