Blowers,2019-07-02 In Moral Formation and the Virtuous Life volume editor Paul M Blowers has translated and gathered several key texts from early Christian sources to explore the broad themes of moral conscience and ethics Readers will gain a sense of how moral formation was part of a process sustained by pastoral instruction and admonition based on ritual practice baptism eucharist and liturgy as well as learned ethical behaviors related to moral issues such as sexual ethics marriage and celibacy wealth and poverty pagan entertainment military service and more Moral Formation and the Virtuous Life is part of Ad Fontes Early Christian Sources a series designed to present ancient Christian texts essential to an understanding of Christian theology ecclesiology and practice The books in the series will make the wealth of early Christian thought available to new generations of students of theology and provide a valuable resource for the Church Developed in light of recent Patristic scholarship the volumes will provide a representative sampling of theological contributions from both East and West The series aims to provide volumes that are relevant for a variety of courses from introduction to theology to classes on doctrine and the development of Christian thought The goal of each volume is not to be exhaustive but rather representative enough to denote for a non specialist audience the multivalent character of early Christian thought allowing readers to see how and why early Christian doctrine and practice developed the way it did

Van Til,2012-08-08 The ability to judge good from bad right from wrong is a uniquely human characteristic However given the complexity of life it is often difficult to discern which choice to make where our responsibilities lie or what the consequences of an action or of a nonaction will be In The Moral Disciple Kent Van Til surveys the skills and dispositions that we need to address moral issues responsibly This basic introduction to Christian ethics the systematic evaluation of morality highlights the centrality of Christ and the Christian faith in moral formation and it offers an ethical framework to guide Christians as they engage a host of moral dilemmas including those surrounding wealth sexuality and the end of life Using easy to read prose and defining terms carefully Van Til provides an accessible introduction to this crucial and practical subject

Responsive Becoming: Moral Formation in Theological, Evolutionary, and Developmental Perspective

Angela Carpenter,2019-04-18 This volume offers an interdisciplinary study of Reformed sanctification and human development providing the foundation for a constructive account of Christian moral formation that is attentive both to divine grace and to the significance of natural embodied processes Angela Carpenter s argument also addresses the impressions that such theologies give namely either solitude in the face of adversity or sheer passivity Through careful examination of the doctrine of sanctification in three Reformed theologians John Calvin John Owen and Horace Bushnell Carpenter argues that human responsiveness in the context of fellowship with the triune God provides a basic framework for a theological account of moral transformation Her relational approach brings together divine and human agency in a dynamic process where both are indispensable Supplying an account of moral formation located within Christian salvation while also being attentive to embodied human nature and the sciences this book is vital to all those interested in spiritual formation and the human capacity for love Moral formation and Christianity Franz ; Pohier Bockle (Jacques-Marie, eds),1978 Pastoral Ethics W. Ross Hastings,2022-06-15 Ethics is freedom in Christ to pursue the good true and beautiful Pastors regularly face concrete ethical questions And they too pursue a moral life In the busyness of ministry it can be tempting to think pragmatically or derive one's ethics from the latest cultural concerns But standard approaches to ethics whether deontological utilitarian or virtue ethical all fall short of being distinctly Christian Ethics ought to be grounded in the gospel and in our triune God In Pastoral Ethics W Ross Hastings provides pastors an evangelical and trinitarian framework for moral formation and ethical discernment For Hastings ethics must be reclaimed as theological Theology without ethics becomes gnosticism Ethics without theology leads to legalism and death Christian ethics participates in God's life and God's work This communion with God leads to obedience to his commands as summed up in the Decalogue and over several chapters Hastings provides a rich exposition for pastoral formation Pastors find their identity in God and this inspires right thinking and acting with regard to authority life and death sexuality work and rest speech and desires An approach to ethics that prompts faith hope and love Pastoral Ethics is an essential guide for Christians in all ministry contexts

Psychology and Spiritual Formation in Dialogue Thomas M. Crisp,Steven L. Porter,Gregg A. Ten Elshof,2019-01-22 Can the phenomena of the human mind be separated from the practices of spiritual formation Research into the nature of moral and spiritual change has revived in recent years in both the worlds of psychology and theology Rooted in a year long discussion held by Biola University's Center for Christian Thought CCT this volume bridges the gaps caused by professional specialization among psychology theology and philosophy

Kim,2010 Editors and authors James Estep and Jonathan Kim have pulled together something often talked about but seldom seen namely a thoroughgoing attempt to integrate theology and science in this case social science Their organization interpretation and evaluation of mountains of information from both sides has resulted in an expert yet easily understandable guide to Christian spiritual formation and development Both academics and practitioners will find help in this volume one that is certain to be a standard work for years to come

The Origins of Christian Morality Wayne A. Meeks,1993-01-01 By the time Christianity became a political and cultural force in the Roman Empire it had come to embody a new moral vision This wise and eloquent book describes the formative years from the crucifixion of Jesus to the end of the second century of the common era when Christian beliefs and practices shaped their unique moral order Wayne A Meeks examines the surviving documents from Christianity's beginnings some of which became the New Testament and shows that they are largely concerned with the way converts to the movement should behave Meeks finds that for these Christians the formation of morals means the formation of community the documents are addressed not to individuals but to groups and they have among their primary aims the maintenance and growth of these groups Meeks paints a picture of the process of socialization that produced the early forms of Christian morality discussing many factors that made the Christians feel that they were a single and chosen people He describes for example the impact of conversion the rapid spread of Christian household cult associations in the cities of the Roman Empire the language of Christian moral discourse as revealed in letters testaments and moral stories the rituals meetings and institutionalization of charity the Christians feelings about celibacy sex and gender roles and their sense of the end time and final judgment In each of these areas Meeks seeks to determine what is distinctive about the Christian viewpoint and what is similar to the moral components of Greco Roman or Jewish thought Emotions, Moral Formation, and Christian Politics Jonathan M. Cahill,2024-08-22 This volume addresses the social relational nature of moral formation emotions and moral agency Drawing on Barth s theological anthropology and his relational conception of the self Cahill argues that Barth envisions moral progress as rooted in the growth of the community Cahill also explores Barth s view of emotion in conversation with the study of emotions in psychology sociology neuroscience and philosophy Building on Barth and these other disciplines Cahill argues for a relational and cognitive conception of emotions while highlighting emotions critical role in regulating group and social relations Emotions are fundamental to interpersonal interactions to group relations and for the reinforcement and disruption of social structures This account of moral formation and emotion is illustrated through the example of climate change A community shaped by love for God solidarity with other creatures and a concern for all of creation leads to an awareness of hegemonic forces and fosters emotions shaped by the kingdom of God that enables the struggle for climate justice The Moral World of the First Christians Wayne A. Meeks,1986-01-01

Describes the social setting of the early Christians looks at the Greek and Roman ethical traditions and explains the moral formation of the beginning Christian movement Moral Formation According to Paul James W. Thompson,2011-10 A leading biblical scholar shows that Paul offers a coherent moral vision based on both the story of Christ and the norms of the law

Ministerial Ethics Joe E. Trull,James E. Carter,2004-03-01 Ministerial Ethics provides both new and experienced pastors with tools for sharpening their personal and professional decision making skills The authors seek to explain the unique moral role of the minister and the ethical responsibilities of the vocation and to provide a clear statement of the ethical obligations contemporary clergy should assume in their personal and professional lives Trull and Carter deal with such areas as family life confidentiality truth telling political involvement working with committees and relating to other church staff members First published in 1993 this edition has been thoroughly updated throughout and contains expanded sections on theological foundations the role of character confidentiality and the timely topic of clergy sexual abuse

Appendices describing various denominational ministerial codes of ethics are included Character and Scripture

William P. Brown,2002 This volume by some of today s leading Christian thinkers setsforth the theological and ethical nature of scripture and explores the way in which the Bible plays a crucial role in the moral formation of community Covering a wide range of issues these chapters demonstrate the useful and challenging intersection between biblical interpretation and ethics. The contributors investigate the formative impacts scripture makes on its readers and examine the community's job of not only interpreting the biblical text but also integrating its moral character into the daily life of faith. This volume not only discusses these subjects in the most comprehensive manner yet but it also offers practical examples of moral formation in action. Contributors: C. Clifton Black, Richard G. Bowman, Alexandra R. Brown, William P. Brown, Walter Brueggemann, Lisa Sowle Cahill, J. Daryl Charles, Ellen T. Charry, Eric S. Christianson, Jill Y. Crainshaw, Ellen F. Davis, Stephen E. Fowl, Terence E. Fretheim, M. Patrick Graham, L. Ann Jervis, L. Gregory Jones, J. Clinton McCann, Jr., Patrick D. Miller, Carol A. Newsom, Larry L. Rasmussen, Marcia Y. Riggs, William Schweiker.

Transformed Judgment L. Gregory Jones, 2008-03-26 Over the past decade prominent philosophers and theologians have returned the virtues to a significant place in moral reflection. Transformed Judgment contributes to the growing literature by arguing that the most coherent account of moral judgment is one grounded in and lived in the presence of the Triune God. L. Gregory Jones suggests that while there has been considerable discussion of the virtues and the activity of moral judgment, the discussion has tended to neglect the importance of friendship and the ways in which people learn to acquire and exercise the virtues in making wise moral judgments. The Christian tradition's claim that human beings are to live in relation to the mystery of the Triune God provides a distinctive understanding of friendship: the virtues and moral judgment claims Jones. Drawing on the thought of Thomas Aquinas, he develops his claim that the primary friendship a person should have is with the God who has befriended humanity in Jesus Christ. Such friendship calls forth a life of transformative discipleship in friendship with others. Jones criticizes recent exponents of the virtues such as Martha Nussbaum, Edmund P. Pincoffs, and Stanley Hauerwas for failing to adequately recognize the difference theological claims make for ethics and moral judgment. He argues that an adequate understanding of how the virtues are acquired and character is formed reveals that theological claims about such matters as God, the world, and life and death make a decisive difference in moral judgment. Drawing on a wide range of literature from the philosophy of language and moral philosophy to theology and theological ethics, Jones establishes why it is crucial to attend to not only the formation of moral judgments but also to transformation in moral judgment.

Virtuous Passions G. Simon Harak, 2001-12-10 The Formation of Christian Character G. Simon Harak S.J. Suggests that morality is best approached from a discussion of human passions: what moves us, draws us, engages our fascination and interest. The Moral Vision of the New Testament Richard Hays, 1996-08-30 A leading expert in New Testament ethics discovers in the biblical witness a unified ethical vision centered in the themes of community, cross, and new creation that has profound relevance in today's world. Richard Hays shows how the New Testament provides moral guidance on the most troubling ethical issues of our time, including violence, divorce, homosexuality, and abortion. Hays' passionately written book with its bold agenda has neither peer nor rival. Leander E. Keck, Winkley Professor of Biblical Theology, Yale Divinity School. There are few people I would rather read for the actual exposition of the New Testament than Richard Hays. This book is filled with wonderful readings that not only inform us about how to think better about the so called problem of the relation between the New Testament and ethics but even more speak of how our lives should be lived in the light of Christ's cross. Stanley Hauerwas, Gilbert T. Rowe, Professor of Theological Studies, Duke University Divinity School. Richard Hays has succeeded brilliantly in bringing New Testament studies, contemporary theology and ethics into a deeply reflective conversation. Hays' point is that the New Testament norms the Christian life and with the help of imagination and metaphor can address the moral conflicts of our time. Ellen T. Charry, Perkins School of Theology, Southern Methodist University. This book isn't just a breath of fresh air. It's a hurricane blowing away the fog of half understood pseudo morality and fashionable compromise and revealing instead the early Christian vision of true humanness and genuine holiness. If this isn't a book for our time, I don't know what is. N. T. Wright, author of The New Testament and the People of God.

Christian Ethics Larry Chouinard, David A. Fiensy, George F. Pickens, 2010-04-01

Do not conform any longer to the pattern of this world but be transformed by the renewing of your mind. Then you will be able to test and approve what God's will is: his good, pleasing and perfect will. Romans 12:2 NIV

What are your goals in life? What goals should you pursue in your life? Every day you make decisions concerning moral issues. Moral evaluation implies that there is a standard of judgment. Christian ethics is the study of how we live a life that conforms to the will of God. When we look at life from a biblical perspective, our goals, actions, and standards should be the result of asking the question: What is God calling me to do and be? Christian Ethics takes a fresh look at a multitude of ethical issues through the lens of God's Word. This important new resource will help provide guidance into knowing God's will for your life.
