Ancient World William George De Burgh, 1924 Medicine and Health Care in Early Christianity Gary B. Ferngren, 2016-08 Drawing on New Testament studies and recent scholarship on the expansion of the Christian church Gary B Ferngren presents a comprehensive historical account of medicine and medical philanthropy in the first five centuries of the Christian era Ferngren first describes how early Christians understood disease He examines the relationship of early Christian medicine to the natural and supernatural modes of healing found in the Bible Despite biblical accounts of demonic possession and miraculous healing Ferngren argues that early Christians generally accepted naturalistic assumptions about disease and cared for the sick with medical knowledge gleaned from the Greeks and Romans Ferngren also explores the origins of medical philanthropy in the early Christian church Rather than viewing illness as punishment for sins early Christians believed that the sick deserved both medical assistance and compassion Even as they were being persecuted Christians cared for the sick within and outside of their community Their long experience in medical charity led to the creation of the first hospitals a singular Christian contribution to health care A succinct thoughtful well written and carefully argued assessment of Christian involvement with medical matters in the first five centuries of the common era It is to Ferngren's credit that he has opened questions and explored them so astutely This fine work looks forward as well as backward it invites fuller reflection of the many senses in which medicine and religion intersect and merits wide readership Journal of the American Medical Association In this superb work of historical and conceptual scholarship Ferngren unfolds for the reader a cultural milieu of healing practices during the early centuries of Christianity Perspectives on Science and Christian Faith Readable and widely researched an important book for mission studies and American Catholic movements the book posits the question of what can take its place in today's challenging religious culture Missiology An International Review Gary B Ferngren is a professor of history at Oregon State University and a professor of the history of medicine at First Moscow State Medical University He is the author of Medicine and Religion A Historical Introduction and the editor of Science and Religion A Historical Introduction The Classical Journal, 1959 Exploring the New Testament World Albert Bell, 1998-09-18 The timeless message of the New Testament applies to people of every culture and generation Yet there is great value in understanding the world in which that message was first revealed its social manners politics religious

Jesus very presence on the scene as the New Testament age was unfolding 1st century A D engendered opposition created conflict while ushering in grace His ideas by the accounts of many were radical for his time first century and even today in the twenty first century Why is this so The NIV Archaeological Study Bible 2005 NIV Student Bible 2002 and on careful examination of corroborating Extra Biblical evidence provide a context for the Word view about Jesus Both Bibles also support aspects of the social and physical sciences worldview in terms of cultural socioeconomic political historical archaeological and philosophical apologetics evidence As the pages of The World and the Word unfold there is a kind of internal consistency with both the worldview social sciences and word view the Bible However where such consistency appeared to diverge this author attempts to filter out the noise by applying critical thinking criteria to a worldview that may not be consistent with the word view The goal of this book therefore is to provide some exposition Greek for apologia of the Word and see how the World fits Born again Christians can be credible social scientists and not compromise Gods Word the Bible Two reviewers of a draft of this book should be mentioned here Mrs Gradye Mattera and Mrs Line pronounced Lynn Green Their input was important honest and helpful in this book effort However in the end they bear no obligation for the final printed version To this I accept full responsibility After thoughtful reading of the book please send reflective comments to Dr Herb Green at hgreen48d yahoo com Use the phrase World Word 1st ed in the Subject line Thank you
