More Mind Joggers! Susan S. Petreshene, 1989      Mind Jogger Hal Zina Bennett, 1986      Living in the long run Dr. Patrick Krause, 2024 How do you want to run a marathon in under four hours or at the age of 90 To take Arne Haase as a role model Germany's oldest marathon runner is still doing 20 kilometers twice a week at the age of 90 And it doesn't have to be that sporty But wouldn't the Haase model be a nice vision of you in your old days being trapped in the body of a 45 year old Or how about the image of Jimmy Carter who made running mainstream in 1978 For millions of people regular exercise is part of their lives But almost all of us run the wrong way To stay mobile from now until old age we can make up our minds for a fundamental change E.g. we mostly unconsciously run as if we were training for a competition From the age of 40 our strength and joints start to deteriorate So what can we change in order to enjoy it forever Change our running attitude running mindfully reduce our biological age Food for thought from philosophy psychology and coaching leads to a lifestyle that keeps you strong and healthy forever One reading session and you're off and running Living in the long Run is neither a motivational guide nor a training companion just read it put it down and start a new life The inspiring narrative running coach invites you to take things radically slowly but to take the first small step towards almost infinity Because endurance matters Running properly starts in your mind In order to still be strong at the age of 90 author Dr Patrick Krause tears down the performance patterns from our sporting past as well as our modern society running or any other fitness sport should ultimately glide into the flow beyond all logic of increase our bones will be grateful How does that kind of stress reduced running work More like a meditation to go with the flow and that's also how the book is written Because running properly starts in your mind This means eliminating opponents such as some fellow runners and potential tempo tyrants like watches and apps which focus on competition and the logic of improvement It's about consciously taking every mental and athletic step Valuable companions on the short path to an eternal running life are techniques from meditation and philosophy as well as impulses from other sports and training aspects for long distances Because those who train like iron triathletes can surpass themselves you bet Living in the long Run combines running with joie de vivre in an instructive and entertaining way both immediately and long term The author Dr Patrick Krause born in 1965 shoe size 40 biological age 40 resting heart rate 40 as of 2024 Studied philosophy journalist author and coach Runner and triathlete for 30 years On strava.com and krauseswelt.com      Brain Teasers! Susan S.
