More Than Peanuts Edith Powell, 2022-11-15 The further we go the bigger it gets and the more interesting I don't know what we would have done without you So wrote Bob Barry a White executive with the Tom Huston Peanut Company to George Washington Carver the shy unassuming scientific genius of Tuskegee Institute The two along with Grady Porter and Tom Huston himself embarked on a quest to grow the peanut industry in the South by understanding and solving the problems faced by farmers From 1924 until the end of Carver's life these four men three White and one Black sustained a professional partnership and a personal friendship built on mutual admiration respect trust and purpose Their work attracted the attention and support of university and government scientists around the country as well as agricultural industry professionals and their most important audience farmers in the Southeast Their effort laid the foundation for research to support the fledgling peanut industry which became one of the region's most important cash crops with a farm value totaling over 1 billion in 2020 More Than Peanuts follows the journey of these four men through the letters they wrote to each other and to others who joined them on the way The letters document a fascinating early example of cooperation between farmers private business university researchers and government policymakers to grow a prosperous industry Even more importantly they are eloquent testimony to a lasting interracial friendship in the segregated South so much more than peanuts
