Australian Legendary Tales, Being the Two Collections Australian Legendary Tales & More Australian Legendary Tales Katie Langloh Parker, 1978. Fifty four stories told to the author by the Noongahburrah people who lived in the vicinity of Bangate Station on the Narran River. Peter Hippi king of the Noongahburrahs, Hippitha, Matah, Barahgurrie and Beemunny related the stories. Text for Dinewan the Emu and Goomblegubbon the Bustard is also in Yuwaalaraay. More Australian Legendary Tales (Classic Reprint) Mrs. K. Langloh Parker, 2017-11-22. Excerpt from More Australian Legendary Tales. Some of the Blacks who have helped to build up this series belong to the Murrumbidgee, Darling, Barwon, Paroo, Warrego, Narran, Culgoa and Castlereagh rivers, the Braidwood, Yass, Narrabri and other districts of New South Wales to the Balonne, Maranoa, Condamine, Barcoo, Mulligan rivers and the Gulf country in Queensland. But I have confined myself as far as possible to the Noongah burrah names thinking it would create confusion if I used those of each dialect several different names for example for one bird or beast. To such as were told in song I have tried to retain something of the rhythmical rendering. I have no doubt a skilled writer could have mosaicked these legendary scraps with ordinary language into a beautiful work of art but I have preferred to let the Blacks as far as possible tell their legends in their own way only adding such explanations as seemed necessary to make them clear to the English reader About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works More Australian Legendary Tales Katie Langloh Parker,1973 More Australian Legendary Tales - Primary Source Edition Katie Langloh Parker,2013-09

LEGENDARY TALES Various,2010 This first book by K Langloh Parker is still one of the best available collections of Australian Aboriginal folklore It was written for a popular audience but the stories are retold with integrity and not filtered as was the case with similar books from this period That said the style of this book reflects Victorian sentimentality and an occasional tinge of racism that was apparent in those times However this volume does contain 31 uniquely Australian tales like The Galah and Oolah the Lizard Bahloo the Moon and the Daens The Origin of the Narran Lake Gooloo the Magpie and the Wahroogah and many more tales with distinctly Aboriginal titles The texts with their sentient animals and mythic transformations have a somnambulistic and chaotic narrative that mark them as authentic dreamtime lore The mere fact that she cared to write down these stories places her far ahead of her contemporaries who at the time barely regarded native Australians as human However children will find here the Jungle Book of Australia but there is no Mowgli set apart as a man For man bird and beast are all blended in the Aboriginal psyche All are of one kindred all shade into each other all obey the Bush Law Unlike any European Marchen these stories do not have the dramatic turns of Western folk lore There are no distinctions of wealth and rank no Cinderella nor a Puss in Boots The struggle for food and water is the perpetual theme and no wonder for the narrators dwell in a dry and thirsty land Parker has some odd connections with modern popular culture She was rescued from drowning by an aborigine at an early age This incident was portrayed in the film Picnic at Hanging Rock The song They Call the Wind Mariah was based on a story from this book and the pop singer Mariah Cary was reputedly named after this song 33% of the net profit from this book will be donated to schools charities and special causes Yesterday s
