Award-winning books for children and young adults Betty L. Criscoe, 1990

Primal Roots of Horror Cinema Carroll L. Fry, 2019-04-01 Why is horror in film and literature so popular? Why do viewers and readers enjoy feeling fearful? Experts in the fields of sociobiology and evolutionary psychology posit that behaviors from our ancestors that favored survival and adaptation still influence our actions, decisions, and thoughts today. The author, with input from a new generation of Darwinists, explores six primal narratives that recur in the horror genre. They are: territoriality, tribalism, fear of genetic assimilation, mating rituals, fear of the predator, and distrust or fear of the Other.

Women Film Directors Gwendolyn A. Foster, 1995-11-14

Until now there hasn't been one single volume authoritative reference work on the history of women in film highlighting nearly every woman filmmaker from the dawn of cinema including Alice Guy France 1896 Chantal Akerman Belgium Penny Marshall U.S. and Sally Potter U.K. Every effort has been made to include every kind of woman filmmaker: commercial and mainstream, avant garde and minority, and to give a complete cross section of the work of these remarkable women. Scholars and students of film, popular culture, Women's Studies and International Studies as well as film buffs will learn much from this work. The Dictionary covers the careers of nearly 200 women filmmakers, giving vital statistics where available, listings of films directed by these women and selected bibliographies for further reading. This is a one volume, one stop resource, a comprehensive up to date guide that is absolutely essential for any course offering an overview or survey of women's cinema. It offers not only all available statistics but critical evaluations of the filmmakers' work as well. In order to keep the length manageable, this volume focuses on women who direct fictional narrative films with occasional forays into the area of the documentary and is limited to film production rather than video production.
