Heraldry, Pageantry and Social Display in Medieval England Peter R. Coss,Maurice Keen,2003 Discussion of display through a range of artefacts and in a variety of contexts family and lineage social distinction and aspiration ceremony and social bonding and the expression of power and authority Medieval culture was intensely visual Although this has long been recognised by art historians and by enthusiasts for particular media there has been little attempt to study social display as a subject in its own right And yet display takes us directly into the values aspirations and indeed anxieties of past societies In this illustrated volume a group of experts address a series of interrelated themes around the issue of display and do so in a waywhich avoids jargon and overly technical language Among the themes are family and lineage social distinction and aspiration ceremony and social bonding and the expression of power and authority The media include monumental effigies brasses stained glass rolls of arms manuscripts jewels plate seals and coins Contributors MAURICE KEEN DAVID CROUCH PETER COSS CAROLINE SHENTON ADRIAN AILES FR D RIQUE LACHAUD MARIAN CAMPBELL BRIAN and MOIRA GITTOES NIGEL SAUL FIONN PILBROW CAROLINE BARRON and JOHN WATTS    Monumental Brasses as Art and History Jerome Bertram,1996 Brasses can be looked at from a variety of perspectives so this new work compiled by members of the Monumental Brass Society summarises the position we have reached on brass memorials in Britain and gives

Although the objective of the Monumental Brass Society is to promote the study both of monumental brasses and of incised slabs research on the two media has proceeded along separate and largely independent lines This is the first work to combine the stylistic analysis of monumental brasses with incised slabs Like brasses incised slabs are susceptible to stylistic analysis to identify workshop groupings This book identifies existing and recorded Purbeck marble incised slabs from the pre Black Death London workshops and compares their designs with those of contemporary brasses The result is a fuller picture than has previously been available of the operations of the London marblers before the Black Death It suggests that in the late thirteenth century production was on a larger scale than previously believed and evidence is outlined for the existence of multiple workshops producing brasses and incised slabs in London for much of the period covered by this study     Readers' Guide ,1912     The Atlantic Monthly ,1923     Delightful History of Ye Gentle Craft: an illustrated history of feet costume.
