Moore Ruble Yudell:

Moore Ruble Yudell Buzz Yudell, John Ruble, 2004 The Master Architect Series is a valuable information source and reference to some of the greatest architecture of our time reflecting each master architect's unique designs Moore Ruble Yudell Oscar Riera Ojeda, Lucas Hugo Guerra, James Mary O'Connor, 1994 Arc of Interaction Oscar Riera Ojeda, 2008 Over the last two decades the University of Cincinnati has created a campus renowned for its internationally recognised architecture and planning The campus now boasts one of the most extensive collections of contemporary architecture anywhere in the country One of most compelling contributions to this program is Moore Ruble Yudell's Joseph A Steger Student Life Center Conceived as part of the university's Main Street Project the building joins buildings designed by the internationally renowned firms of Morphosis and Gwathmey Siegel to frame a major campus pedestrian spine and a plaza designed by landscape architect George Hargreaves In an especially brilliant stroke all three structures overlook the university's Nippert Stadium Surgically inserted into the campus fabric the Joseph A Steger Student Life Center plays multiple roles as an eye catching landmark a backdrop to the spaces around it and as a frame for vistas that provide clear pathways through a dense urban campus A complex structure it curves nearly six hundred feet in length and fifty five feet of vertical creating a long thin envelope treated as a penetrable ribbon like form The dense mix of academic social and retail programs inside the building which includes an art gallery retail store coffee shop and student government offices are inseparable from the surrounding campus spaces By blurring the distinction between interior and exterior architecture and landscape the building provides a new model for buildings on other campuses nationwide ILLUSTRATIONS 48 colour 11 b/w photographs 40 illustrations Moore Ruble Yudell, 2007 Moore Ruble Yudell Moore, Ruble, Yudell, Architects & Planners, 1999 Each of Moore Ruble Yudell's Berlin projects which include urban design master planning housing and commercial and institutional buildings has marked an important moment in the history of this city For example Tegel Harbor proclaimed humane values Moore Ruble Yudell Moore, Ruble, Yudell, Architects & Planners, 1993 Presents the work of the internationally acclaimed California based firm Moore Ruble Yudell whose expertise in community involvement and participatory design has influenced the course of contemporary architecture particularly in the areas of housing and community projects Moore Ruble Yudell Houses Images Publishing Group, 2001-01-01 Moore Ruble Yudell The Images Publishing Group, 1999 Moore Ruble Yudell Moore, Ruble, Yudell, Architects & Planners, 2011 Place a sense of place of unique human attachment is the bedrock of the architectural approach by this Practice The configuration of space and form functional relationships of materials and use and defining articulating and celebrating the design of a place represents MRY's methodology There is a sense that their architecture is at the service of larger ideas about living which is expressed in the process of place making This response to contemporary life the influence of Charles Moore the emphasis on shared architectural values and much else besides all form the focus of these pages The range of recent functionally varied projects from all over the world demonstrates how MRY's value system can be adapted and made suitable for almost every client and every project. Under the headings of Residential, Civic, Campus and Community and Masterplanning and Housing a selection of projects capture the essence of the themes pursued by this Practice over the past 30 years. The Grangegorman Masterplan, Dublin Institute of Technology is just one such expression of MRY's philosophy. Contents include studio profile, selected bibliography, selected awards and exhibitions, project chronology and project credits.

Design through Dialogue Karen A.

Franck, Teresa von Sommaruga Howard, 2010-02-15 Completed projects receive more public attention than the process of their creation and so the myth that architects design buildings alone lives on. In fact, architects work with a great many others and the relationships that develop particularly with clients have a significant impact on design.

Design through Dialogue explores the relationship between client and architect through the lens of four overlapping activities that occur during any project relating to talking, exploring and transforming.

Cases of design and collaboration range from smaller scale retail, residential and educational projects in the US, Sweden, the UK and the Pacific Rim to large institutions including Seattle's Central Library, the National Museum of the American Indian in Washington DC, the Supreme Court in Jerusalem and the Museum of New Zealand. Material is taken from interviews with clients and architects and research in psychotherapy, group dynamics and design studies. Throughout the book, aspects of process are linked to design outcomes to illustrate how architects and clients collaborate creatively.
