Moral Thinking Its Levels Method And Point

Richard Mervyn Hare

Moral Thinking Its Levels Method And Point:

Moral Thinking Richard Mervyn Hare,1981 This book is a continuation of the enterprise which the author began with The Language of Morals and Freedom and Reason In the present work R M Hare has fashioned out of the logical and linguistic theses of his earlier books a full scale but readily intelligible account of moral argument

Moral Thinking

Richard Mervyn Hare,1981 Moral thinking Richard M. Hare,1988 Moral Thinking Richard M. Hare,1991

Corporate Citizenship and New Governance Ingo Pies,Peter Koslowski,2011-07-30 This volume unites the perspective of business ethics with approaches from strategic management economics law political science and with philosophical reflections on the theory of Corporate Citizenship and New Governance In view of the internationalization of the global economy and the free movement of capital new instruments of political coordination are needed These societal changes trigger the two closely intertwined challenges examined in this book The first challenge relates to the role and the self conceptualization of business firms as corporate citizens within society Companies are increasingly expected to assume the social responsibility of helping to shape the rule framework of globalization The second challenge refers to the form of the engagement in local national and international processes of governance To more credibly and effectively tackle these challenges corporate actors are ever more participating in rule setting processes together with civil society organizations and the government

John Stuart Mill and the Art of Life Ben Eggleston,Dale Miller,David Weinstein,2011 The Art of Life is John Stuart Mill s name for his account of practical reason In this volume eleven leading scholars elucidate this fundamental but widely neglected element of Mill s thought Mill divides the Art of Life into three departments Morality Prudence or Policy and sthetics In the volume s first section Rex Martin David Weinstein Ben Eggleston and Dale E Miller investigate the relation between the departments of morality and prudence Their papers ask whether Mill is a rule utilitarian and if so whether his practical philosophy must be incoherent The second section contains papers by Jonathan Riley and Wendy Donner who explore the relation between the departments of morality and aesthetics They discuss issues ranging from supererogation to aesthetic pleasure and humanity s relationship with nature The papers in the third section consider the Art of Life s axiological first principle the principle of utility Elijah Millgram contends that Mill s own life refutes his claim that the Art of Life has a single axiological first principle Philip Kitcher maintains that Mill has a dynamic axiology requiring us to continually refine our conception of the good In the final section three papers address what it means to put the Art of Life into practice Robert Haraldsson locates an Art of Ethics in On Liberty that is in tension with the Art of Life Nadia Urbinati plumbs the classical roots of Mill s view of the good life Finally Colin Heydt develops Mill s suggestion that we regard our own lives as works of art

Justifying Legal Punishment Igor Primoratz,1997-11

While the philosophy of punishment is dominated by utilitarian and mixed theories this study written in the analytic tradition but also drawing on the views of Hegel argues for a purely retributive view all the main questions facing a theory of punishment are answered in terms of justice and desert without any concessions to social expediency Children's Right to Freedom, Care and Enlightenment Bertram Bandman,2013-10-28 Professor Bandman presents a philosophical argument in answer to the question How do we justifiably bring up our children Bandman suggests that the status of children's rights in collusion with the method by which children are raised result in the strength and breadth of our rights as adults This is an eminently worthwhile study involving the interests of younger and older people alike engaging us all in reflective examination of issues right at our doorsteps Morality, Rules, and Consequences Dale E. Miller,Elinor Mason,Brad Hooker,2019-07-31 What determines whether an action is right or wrong One appealing idea is that a moral code ought to contain a number of rules that tell people how to behave and that are simple and few enough to be easily learned Another appealing idea is that the consequences of actions matter often more than anything else Rule consequentialism tries to weave these two ideas into a general theory of morality This theory holds that morally wrong actions are the ones forbidden by rules whose acceptance would maximize the overall good Morality Rules and Consequences A Critical Reader explores for students and researchers the relationship between consequentialist theory and moral rules Most of the chapters focus on rule consequentialism or on the distinction between act and rule versions of consequentialism Contributors many of whom are the leading philosophers in the area suggest ways of assessing whether rule consequentialism could be a satisfactory moral theory These essays all of which are previously unpublished provide students in Moral Philosophy with essential material and ask key questions on just what the criteria for an adequate moral theory might be Features The volume presents original scholarship on an important and developing area of contemporary moral philosophy The contributors are the leading philosophers in the field Advances debate about whether rule consequentialism is a satisfactory moral theory A balanced collection containing essays by supporters of the theory and its criticsContributors David Haslett Brad Hooker Shelly Kagan Sanford Levy David Lyons Dale E Miller Phillip Montague Tim Mulgan Philip Pettit Madison Powers Jonathan Riley William Shaw Michael Smith and Alan Thomas Human Being and Morality in Ethics of Social Consequences Vasil Gluchman,2003 Explores issues concerning the moral agent and one's moral rights Deals with issues related to fundamental moral values and principles of ethics of social consequences making essential differences between ethical theory as a kind of non utilitarian consequentialism and utilitarian forms of consequentialism Explores moral values of humanity legality justice responsibility tolerance moral duty
