and the Politics of Post Victorian Decadence Kristin Mahoney argues that the early twentieth century was a period in which the specters of the fin de siècle exercised a remarkable draw on the modern cultural imagination and troubled emergent avant gardistes These authors and artists refused to assimilate to the aesthetic and political ethos of the era representing themselves instead as time travelers from the previous century for whom twentieth century modernity was both baffling and disappointing However they did not turn entirely from the modern moment but rather relied on decadent strategies to participate in conversations concerning the most highly vexed issues of the period including war the rise of the Labour Party the question of women's sexual freedom and changing conceptions of sexual and gender identities Sir Max Beerbohm

Man and Writer Jacobus Gerhardus Riewald, 1953 It is thirty two years now since Bohun Lynch wrote his little book entitled Max Beerbohm in Perspective As its subject was not quite fifty then and at the height of his creative power the book naturally lacked the air of finality that one usually associates with studies of this kind But even apart from the inevitable limitation imposed by the time of writing Bohun Lynch's book leaves much to be desired It is an informal sympathetic and well written appreciation of certain selected aspects of Beerbohm's art rather than a careful and systematic analysis of all the then available facts This is especially evident from the author's virtual neglect of such topics as Beerbohm's literary ancestry his technique and his place as a critic and from the scant treatment accorded to his personality and to some of his works Bibliographical documentation about the writings and caricatures of Sir Max Beerbohm is equally inadequate The first important contribution in this field was made by A E Gallatin whose Sir Max Beerbohm Bibliographical Notes appeared in 1944 A revised version of part of this book by A E Gallatin and L M Oliver was serialized in the Harvard Library Bulletin in 1951 and published in 1952 as No 111 of the Soho Bibliographies under the title A Bibliography of the Works of Max Beerbohm
