Essays on photography and the medium's history and evolving identity In Each Wild Idea Geoffrey Batchen explores a wide range of photographic subjects from the timing of the medium's invention to the various implications of cyberculture Along the way he reflects on contemporary art photography the role of the vernacular in photography's history and the Australianness of Australian photography The essays all focus on a consideration of specific photographs from a humble combination of baby photos and bronzed booties to a masterwork by Alfred Stieglitz Although Batchen views each photograph within the context of broader social and political forces he also engages its own distinctive formal attributes In short he sees photography as something that is simultaneously material and cultural In an effort to evoke the lived experience of history he frequently relies on sheer description as the mode of analysis insisting that we look right at rather than beyond the photograph being discussed A constant theme throughout the book is the question of photography's past present and future identity Max Dupain Max Dupain, Photography Production and Appreciation Sandra Jane, 2010-01-08
