TOWARD A POLITICS OF PEACE

"An original and quietly provocative book.... Ruddick retrieves for us the complexity and subtlety of maternal activity."

—Eva Hoffman, New York Times

The first attempt to describe, from a philosophical perspective, the thinking that grows out of the work mothers do

Maternal Thinking Toward A Politics Of Peace:

Maternal Thinking Sara Ruddick, 1989 A New York Times Notable Book of the Year 1989 Philosopher mother and feminist Sara Ruddick examines the discipline of mothering showing for the first time how the day to day work of raising children gives rise to distinctive ways of thinking Maternal Thinking Sara Ruddick, 1989 Maternal Thinking Andrea O'Reilly, 2009 The year 2009 marks twenty years since the publication of Sara Ruddick's monumental text Maternal Thinking Toward a Politics of Peace a book that is regarded along with Adrienne Rich's Of Woman Born as the most significant work in maternal scholarship and the new field of Motherhood Studies What made Maternal Thinking so life changing and groundbreaking was that it foregrounded what all mothers know motherwork is inherently and profoundly an intellectual activity and theorized the obvious Mothers think This volume published to commemorate and celebrate the twentieth anniversary of the publication of Maternal Thinking explores the impact and influence this book has had on maternal scholarship and revisits what motherhood scholars regard as the pivotal insights of Ruddick's text motherwork is a practice that gives rise to and is informed by maternal thinking mothering as a practice is composed of and characterized by particular characteristics this work is not defined by or reducible to gender and maternal thinking makes possible a politics a peace The volume includes 17 contributors from disciplines as diverse as anthropology sociology literature philosophy education women's studies and psychology and features a conversation with and an epilogue by Sara Ruddick Bringing Peace Home Karen Warren, Duane L. Cady, 1996 This collection of works is ambitious well documented thoroughly though not turgidly referenced and comprehensively indexed It is deeply disturbing and deeply engaging Australian Feminist Studies Contributors discuss the subtle and complex relationships between various notions of feminism and peace Feminist peace issues are explored along a wide spectrum of personal and political issues from the personal violations of rape incest and domestic abuse to the violence of racism sexism economic exploitation war and genocide Pacifism, Politics, and Feminism, 2019-04-09 Pacifism Politics and Feminism Intersections and Innovations discusses how feminist analyses allow for and encourage the reconceptualization of concepts and ideas once thought familiar from traditional ethical and political philosophy and b traditional political topics and issues through pacifist and feminist lenses The chapters that focus on the former explore the possibility of queering such concepts as autonomy violence resistance peace religion and politics while the chapters that focus on the latter bring feminist and pacifist sensibilities and arguments to bear on classic political questions such as when and how violence and war are justified the appropriateness of various responses to climate change and the correct way to engage with such topics and themes in educational institutional settings Contributors are David Boersema Barrett Emerick Tamara Fakhoury Jane Hall Fitz Gibon William C Gay Jennifer Kling John Lawless Megan Mitchell and Harry van der Linden Peacemaking Judith Presler, Sally J. Scholz, 2000 Peacemaking includes a large array of activities from local to global attempts to attain peace It includes consideration of international interstate and intertribal conflict resolution communal personal and interpersonal social justice deterrence of the use of nuclear weapons design of international treaties that prevent war or other forms of international conflict disarmament international organizations that secure the order among nations and even from some points of view war As the 20th century drew to a close we have witnessed peacemakers trying to end ethnic cleansing reinstate justly elected political leaders and reach compromises in the ideological differences that perpetuate age old conflicts We also see peacemaking in our schools homes and workplaces Philosophers have long been interested in peacemaking in one form or another and philosophical accounts of peacemaking reflect the variety of perspectives methods and activities developed in pursuing peacemaking In some instances philosophers expand upon the situations activities and methods of the peacemaker in the field The essays in this volume propose some theoretical arguments for various aspects of peacemaking offer nonmilitary alternatives to war and discuss practical examples of peacemaking in daily life The contributors analyze power relations language social groupings and distribution of resources At times they draw insight from social and historical models of conflict and conflict resolution This collection of essays on peacemaking aims to enlighten contemporary social and political discussions and contribute to achieving the ever challenging goal of peace

On Feminist Ethics and Politics Claudia Card, 1999 For years mainstream feminist ethics focused criticism on male supremacy Feminist philosophers in this volume adopt a less male focused stance to look closely at oppression's impact on women's agency and on women's relations with women Examining legal social and physical relationships these philosophers confront moral ambiguity moral compromise and complicity in perpetuating oppression Combining personal experience with philosophical inquiry they vividly portray their daily engagement with oppression as both victims and perpetrators They explore such issues as how pornography silences women and radical feminist politics complicity in racism Among these insightful essays Sandra Bartky argues that women share guilt for racism when they benefit from it without protest Susan Brison reflects on uses of narrative in trauma recovery from such experiences as being targeted for rape or murder Joan Callahan examines fallout of derogatory speech directed at lesbians Virginia Held proposes carrying care into marketplaces and governments and in her introduction Claudia Card draws on Primo Levi's conception of gray zones in exploring dangers of character damage to victims of misogyny A fitting companion to Card's highly regarded Feminist Ethics this volume interweaves observations on character political ethics violence and love into an accessible sourcebook for students It tackles some of feminism's most pressing issues and helps readers to identify and then overcome the real damage caused by oppression

Critical Feminist Peace and Conflict Studies Jodi Dueck-Read, Sheherazade Jafari, Julie Marie Hyde, Lisa McLean, 2025-04-30 This volume advances a vision of what Peace and Conflict Studies PACS might look like if critical feminist theories moved to the centre of our analyses Critical feminist literatures hold promise for enriching our understanding of everyday dynamics of conflict and potential pathways for building peace with justice The book charts a course from the critique of the patriarchal colonial and liberal power structures that exacerbate violence to presenting a vision of feminist alternatives to the status quo and finally to a discussion of the application of feminist insights for research pedagogy and praxis Empirical and theoretical contributions explore topics including religious women s activism colonial power dynamics within elementary schools critical views on women s empowerment grassroots pro migrant movements embodied and affective practices of peace Indigenous and migrant views on citizenship and solidarity critical feminist research ethics and intersectional queer and posthumanist peace pedagogies Maternal thinking ,1997
