Strong, 2020-11-03 A free open access ebook is available upon publication Learn more at www.luminosoa.org Documenting Death is a gripping ethnographic account of the deaths of pregnant women in a hospital in a low resource setting in Tanzania Through an exploration of everyday ethics and care practices on a local maternity ward anthropologist Adrienne E Strong untangles the reasons Tanzania has achieved so little sustainable success in reducing maternal mortality rates despite global development support Growing administrative pressures to document good care serve to preclude good care in practice while placing frontline healthcare workers in moral and ethical peril Maternal health emergencies expose the precarity of hospital social relations and accountability systems which together continue to lead to the deaths of pregnant women Births And Power W. Penn Handwerker, 2019-04-11 This book challenges orthodox public perspectives on reproduction It relies on participant observation field censuses interviews and use of official demographic epidemiological and health statistics Encyclopedia of Medical Anthropology Carol R. Ember, Melvin Ember, 2003-12-31 Medical practitioners and the ordinary citizen are becoming more aware that we need to understand cultural variation in medical belief and practice. The more we know how health and disease are managed in different cultures, the more we can recognize what is culture bound in our own medical belief and practice. The Encyclopedia of Medical Anthropology is unique because it is the first reference work to describe the cultural practices relevant to health in the world's cultures and to provide an overview of important topics in medical anthropology. No other single reference work comes close to matching the depth and breadth of information on the varying cultural background of health and illness around the world. More than 100 experts, anthropologists and other social scientists have contributed their firsthand experience of medical cultures from around the world. National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1990. Ethnography of Fertility and Birth Carol P. MacCormack, 1994. This text combines anthropological medical insights into the process of human reproduction. Edinburgh Medical Journal, 1880. Birth in Four Cultures Brigitte Jordan, 1993. While the process of childbirth is in some sense everywhere the same, it is also everywhere different in that each culture has produced a birthing system that is strikingly dissimilar from the others. Based on her fieldwork in the United States, Sweden, Holland, and Yucatan, Jordan develops a framework for the discussion and investigation of different birthing systems. Illustrated with useful examples and lively anecdotes from Jordan's own fieldwork, the Fourth Edition of this innovative comparative ethnography brings the reader to a deeper understanding of childbirth as a culturally grounded, biosocially mediated and interactionally achieved event. Progressive Medicine Hobart Amory Hare, 1915. A quarterly digest of advances, discoveries and improvements in the medical and surgical sciences. American Medicine, 1904.

Birthing in the Pacific Vicki Lukere, Margaret Jolly, 2002. This collection explores birthing in the Pacific against the background of debates about tradition and modernity. A wide-ranging introduction and conclusion together with case studies from Papua New Guinea, New Caledonia, Vanuatu, Fiji, and Tonga show how simple contrasts between traditional and modern practices, technocratic and organic models of childbirth, indigenous and foreign approaches and notions of before and after can be potent but problematic. The difficulties entailed confront public health programs concerned with practical issues of infant and maternal survival in developing countries as well as scholarly analyses of birthing in cross-cultural contexts. The introduction analyzes central concepts and themes: questions of survival, safety and well-being, the significance of postures, practices and sites, the role of midwives, traditional birth attendants and nurses, and the role of men in birthing and reproduction. Contributors: four anthropologists, a historian and a community health worker offer insights into the ways mothers, midwives and nurses relate the traditional and the modern and how ideas of tradition and modernity have shaped representations of Pacific childbirth. The conclusion provides researchers with a guide to relevant literature from several disciplines. As a whole, the collection warns against either a celebration of emancipation through biomedicine or a recuperative romance about women's past powers in reproduction. The American illustrated medical dictionary.
