Johannes von Moltke

Nirgendwo In Afrika:

No Place Like Home Johannes von Moltke, 2005-09-06 This is the first comprehensive account of Germany's most enduring film genre the Heimatfilm which has offered idyllic variations on the idea that there is no place like home since cinema's early days Charting the development of this popular genre over the course of a century in a work informed by film studies cultural history and social theory Johannes von Moltke focuses in particular on its heyday in the 1950s a period that has been little studied Questions of what it could possibly mean to call the German nation home after the catastrophes of World War II are anxiously present in these films and von Moltke uses them as a lens through which to view contemporary discourses on German national identity Afrika and Alemania Priscilla Layne, Michelle Stott James, Lisabeth Hock, 2025-07-15 Afrika and Alemania explores the representation of Blackness in German speaking literary autobiographical and cinematic texts across two centuries By examining how different groups of women with access to German culture have depicted Africa Africans and the African diaspora the book challenges the assumption that all women will tell the same story Focusing on Black women non Black women of colour and white women it investigates how these diverse voices engage with and represent Blackness within a society shaped by racial hierarchies Part I analyses how Black German speaking women actively reshape and redefine Blackness in response to stereotypes upheld by white German society Part II explores how non Black women of colour navigate the complexities of othering while sometimes reproducing anti Black stereotypes while Part III discusses how white women's projections of fantasies about Africa often erase Black voices and render them invisible Offering a nuanced analysis of the intersections of race gender ethnicity and nationality Afrika and Alemania provides a vital framework for understanding Blackness within contemporary scholarship and its broader social and cultural implications

Remembering Africa Dirk Göttsche, 2013 A groundbreaking treatment of the themes of colonialism and Africa in German literary fiction as presented in some fifty novels from the past three decades In the late 1990s in the wake of German unification multiculturalism and globalization a surge of historical novels about German colonialism in Africa and its previously neglected legacies hit the German literary scene This development accelerated by the centenary in 2004 of Germany's colonial war in South West Africa has continued to the present making colonialism an established theme of literary memorialization alongside Germany's dominant memory themes National Socialism and the Holocaust the former GDR and its demise in the Wende and more recently 1968 This is the first comprehensive study of contemporary German literature's intense engagement with German colonialism and with Germany's wider involvement in European colonialism Building on the author's decade of research and publication in the field the book discusses some fifty novels by German Swiss and Austrian writers among them Hans Christoph Buch Alex Capus Christof Hamann Lukas Hartmann Ilona Maria Hilliges Gisela W Hoffmann Dieter Kehn Hermann Schulz Gerhard Seyfried Thomas von Steinaecker Uwe Timm Ilija Trojanow and Stephan Wackwitz Drawing on international postcolonial theory the German tradition of cross cultural literary studies and on
