Manford's Magazine ,1889 Ballou's Dollar Monthly Magazine ,1856 The Reformatory and refuge journal
[afterw.] Seeking and saving Reformatory and refuge union,1861 No Place to Hide Errol Christie,2011-05-26 As my future crumbled before my eyes I grasped for the rope My entire life s struggle was ending here in plain view of my enemies How was it possible How had I let things come to this This is not the story of a celebrity sportsman It s not the story of a life covered in glory with its attendant cavalcade of famous friends easy wins and glamorous encounters Errol Christie may have been one of the most promising British boxers of his generation a Fight Night poster boy captain of the England boxing team English and European champion and a cocky Ali esque dancer with a reputation for devastating early knockouts but this is not that story This is a story about fighting Coventry in the dying days of the Seventies was a tough place to grow up especially if you were poor and black At the same time as the young Errol Christie was raising the flag in the ring his fists were seeing off skinhead tormentors and NF bootboys on the streets Britain was sickening from a vicious racial divide and even when the big time turned up Errol soon discovered that a black boxer who refused to play by the rules white rules would never be tolerated In 1985 after a string of professional knockouts Errol faced Mark Kaylor in a brutal bout that tore open the country s simmering racial enmities In the eighth round he went down and stayed down the roar of the hard right in his ears But the years that followed would see Errol square up against a far tougher adversary as he found himself out in the cold struggling to get by and alone with only his own shattered confidence and no place to hide No Place Like Home Mary Higgins Clark,2005-04-05 In a riveting and unputdownable thriller from the Queen of Suspense a young woman is ensnared into returning to a place she had wanted to leave behind forever her childhood home At the age of ten Liza Barton shot her mother trying desperately to protect her from her estranged stepfather Ted Cartwright Despite his claim that the shooting was a deliberate act the Juvenile Court ruled the death an accident Many people however agreed with Cartwright and the tabloids compared the child to the infamous murderess Lizzie Borden pointing even to the similarity of their names To erase her past her adoptive parents change her name to Celia At age twenty eight a successful interior designer in Manhattan she marries a childless sixty year old widower Laurence Foster and they have a son Before their marriage she reveals to him her true identity Two years later on his deathbed he makes her swear never to tell anyone so that their son Jack will not carry the stigma of her past Two years later Celia is happily remarried Her peace of mind is shattered when her new husband surprises her with a gift the house where she killed her mother And it soon becomes clear that there is someone in the community knows Celia More and more there are signs that someone in the community knows Celia s true identity When the real estate agent who sold them the house is brutally murdered and Celia is the first on the crime scene she becomes a suspect As she fights to prove her innocence she has no idea that she and her son Jack are now the targets of a killer Hunger Among the Homeless United States. Place Like Home Jerri Garretson, 2023-08-21 Jerri Garretson lived a total of 33 years in Manhattan Kansas in three periods. This book features 55 topics about life in the years she was growing up there plus 13 mini biographies of teachers and neighbors that were important in her life. It is illustrated with over 800 photos of people, places, and events and even everyday objects most of us no longer use. To assist readers unfamiliar with Manhattan, she has included maps and to anchor local events to the nation and the world, there is a timeline. The book is thoroughly indexed. Though many dates and events are mentioned, it is not a history of the city but rather an entertaining account about the way of life in that time and place. Please be aware that this is a 298-page heavily illustrated book in the same fixed format as the printed book. As such, it is a download of about a large download of approximately 227 MB and will take much longer to download than a novel in flowing format that has no illustrations.

Place/No-Place in Urban Asian Religiosity Joanne Punzo Waghorne, 2016-07-15 This book discusses Asia's rapid pace of urbanization with a particular focus on new spaces created by and for everyday religiosity. The essays in this volume, covering topics from the global metropolises of Singapore, Bangalore, Seoul, Beijing, and Hong Kong to the regional centers of Gwalior, Pune, Jaipur, and sites like Wudang Mountain, examine in detail the spaces created by new or changing religious organizations that range in scope from neighborhood-based to consciously global. The definition of spatial aspects includes direct place-making projects such as the construction of new religious buildings, temples, halls, and other meeting sites, as well as less tangible religious endeavors such as the production of new mental spaces urged by spiritual leaders or the shift from terra firma to the strangely concrete effervescence of cyberspace. With this in mind, it explores how distinct and blurred and open and bounded communities generate and participate in diverse practices as they deliberately engage or disengage with physical landscapes, cityscapes. It highlights how, through these religious organizations, changing class and gender configurations, ongoing political and economic transformations continue as significant factors shaping and affecting Asian urban lives. In addition, the book goes further by exploring new and often bittersweet improvements like metro rail lines, new national highways, widespread internet access that bulldoze both literally and figuratively religious places and force relocations and adjustments that are often innovative and unexpected. Furthermore, this volume explores personal experiences within the particularities of selected religious organizations and the ways that subjects interpret or actively construct urban spaces. The essays show, through ethnographically and historically grounded case studies, the variety of ways newly emerging religious communities or religious institutions understand, value, interact with, or strive to ignore extreme urbanization and rapidly changing built environments.
