Modern Irish Stories From The Irish Times:

Modern Irish Stories, 1985 Anthologisation and Irish Short Fiction Paul Delaney, 2025-03-28 This original new study explores the recent flowering of short fiction in Ireland analysing the production dissemination and reception of the short form in the twenty first century and reading contemporary short stories in their many configurations and guises This volume covers twenty five years of Irish writing beginning in late 1997 with the establishment of the innovative literary periodical The Stinging Fly and concludes in 2022 The book is structured in five parts with each part focusing on a particular mode of publication periodicals single author volumes short story cycles edited anthologies and small or independent presses Each part includes a series of case studies while also engaging with a diverse range of short story criticism and theory both comparative and Irish centered Anthologisation and Irish Short Fiction brings different writers at distinct stages of their careers into conversation and This volume aims to illuminate the contemporaneous value of this body of work its innovative and varied use and the diversity of its practice Particular attention is also shown to the fluidity of the short form to its capacity to disrupt and arrest and to its progressive writerly potential Modernism in Irish Women's Contemporary Writing

Paige Reynolds, 2024 This volume explores the relationship between contemporary Irish women writers and literary modernism Paige Reynolds examines how the work of Elizabeth Bowen Edna O'Brien Anne Enright and others employs the modernist mode to articulate female interiority as a way of thinking about contemporary social problems The Irish Times Book of the Century

Fintan O'Toole, 1999 Fintan O Toole draws together the key events of modern Irish history showing how international factors shaped them and recalling the manner in which they were reflected in The Irish Times The book reproduces over 100 original articles from the paper ranging from the end of the Boer War to the conflict in Kosovo There is also a time line highlighting principal Irish and world events Over 300 photographs illustrations and cartoons many rare or previously unpublished visualise key moments of the last 100 years They highlight the growing importance of visual media throughout the century depicting people and events from the worlds of politics and war art culture and social history

O'Connell, 2000 Portraits of writers taken in Kennys Bookshop Galway Women and the Decade of Commemorations Oona Frawley, 2021-01-26 When women are erased from history what are we left with Between 1912 and 1922 Ireland experienced sweeping social and political change including the Easter Rising World War I the Irish Civil War the fight for Irish women's suffrage the founding of the Abbey Theatre and the passage of the Home Rule Bill In preparation for the centennial of this epic decade the Irish government formed a group of experts to oversee the ways in which the country would remember this monumental time Unfortunately the group was formed with no attempt at gender balance Women and the Decade of Commemorations edited by Oona Frawley highlights not only the responsibilities of Irish women past and present but it also privileges women's scholarship in an attempt to redress what has been a long standing imbalance For example contributors note the role of the Waking the Feminists movement which was ignited when in 2016 the Abbey Theater released its male dominated centenary program They also discuss the importance of addressing missing history and curating memory to correct the historical record when it comes to remembering revolution Together the essays in Women and the Decade of Commemorations consider the impact of women's unseen unsung work which has been critically important in shaping Ireland a country that continues to struggle with honoring the full role of women today The Bookseller ,1905

Writing Resistance in Northern Ireland Aimée Walsh,2024-04-02 Writing Resistance in Northern Ireland is an examination of feminist republicanism's in the north of Ireland between 1975 and 1986 Republican prison protest was rife during this period and fractures opened up between the feminist and republican movements Despite their shared objective of self determination the two movements did not achieve a natural or total congruence While it has been argued that there is a disjuncture between feminism and nationalism this book argues for a new perspective on feminist republicanism's in the north and tells the story of a niche collective of republican feminists who came to the fore during the Troubles and sought bodily political and economic autonomy The book examines source material including historical narratives jail writings journalism documentary film and literary texts and paints a vivid picture of a movement of republican feminist women's writing concerned with political crisis gender and the nation Aim e Walsh uses the plural republicanism's as a way of encapsulating the varied iterations of nationalist feminism from militant republicanism in Armagh Gaol to a non violent literary nationalist feminism This examination of the interaction between nationalism and gender shows how the study of women's writing can offer a paradigm shift in the history of the Troubles as seen through a feminist lens British Novelists
