Revolution and State in Modern Mexico Adam David Morton, 2011-09-16 This groundbreaking study develops a new approach to understanding the formation of the postrevolutionary state in Mexico Adam David Morton links the rise and demise of the modern Mexican state to ongoing forms of class struggle that have shaped and restructured state and civil society He thus sheds valuable interdisciplinary light on debates on state formation by recovering radical tools of analysis such as uneven development and class struggle for the wider study of past and present politics in Mexico and more broadly Latin America

Masculinity and Sexuality in Modern Mexico Víctor M. Macías-González, Anne Rubenstein, 2012-08-31 In Masculinity and Sexuality in Modern Mexico historians and anthropologists explain how evolving notions of the meaning and practice of manhood have shaped Mexican history In essays that range from Texas to Oaxaca and from the 1880s to the present contributors write about file clerks and movie stars wealthy world travelers and ordinary people whose adventures were confined to a bar in the middle of town The Mexicans we meet in these essays lived out their identities through extraordinary events committing terrible crimes writing world famous songs and ruling the nation but also in everyday activities like falling in love raising families getting dressed and going to the movies Thus these essays in the history of masculinity connect the major topics of Mexican political history since 1880 to the history of daily life

Textured Lives Claudia Schaefer, 1992 Mexican culture has long been the object of scholarly interest and popular curiosity notably since the 1910 Revolution and most recently in the 1990 Metropolitan Museum of Art exhibit Mexico Splendors of Thirty Centuries During these eight decades in the evolution of the modern Mexican nation shifting relations of power have constantly met with voices of opposition that have challenged the national vision of progress and unity Textured Lives explores some of these cracks in the Mexican national edifice by examining the works of women in literature and the arts with focus on individuals who represent crucial phases in Mexico's cultural history Frida Kahlo and postrevolutionary nationalism Rosario Castellanos and the promises of institutionalized revolution Elena Poniatowska and the legacy of 1968 and Angeles Mastretta and the golden age of the oil boom Schaefer argues that exploring the social context of cultural representation highlights the tensions between master narratives and these women's transgressive forays into those spaces of power Combining literary theory cultural analysis gender study and theories of artistic representation her book embraces painting literary journalism the epistolary novel and autobiographical narrative to question the traditional forms of these genres as well as to debate the boundaries between the self and the national identity independence They explore such themes as the relationship between church and state the resurgence of religiosity and religious societies in the post reform period the religious values of the liberals of the 1850s and the ways that popular expressions of religion often trumped formal and universal proscriptions Focusing on individual stories and vignettes and on
