

6 MYTHS ABOUT EXERCISE

Myth No. 1

Cardio is more important than strength training.

MYTHBUSTER Strength training is essential for overall health and longevity. It helps build muscle, which increases your metabolism and burns more calories, even at rest. It also strengthens bones and improves balance, reducing the risk of falls and injuries. Incorporating strength training into your routine, even just a few times a week, can have a significant impact on your health.

MYTHBUSTER Cardio is important, but it's not the only way to stay fit. A combination of cardio and strength training is the most effective way to improve your health and fitness.

Myth No. 3

You should work out every day.

It's important to listen to your body and take rest days. Over-exercising can lead to burnout, injury, and a decrease in performance. A balanced workout routine that includes both cardio and strength training, with adequate rest in between, is the key to long-term success.
