Inquisitorial Inquiries Richard L. Kagan, Abigail Dyer, 2011-09-15 On the first day of Francisco de San Antonio's trial before the Spanish Inquisition in Toledo in 1625 his interrogators asked him about his parentage His real name he stated was Abram Ruben and he had been born in Fez of Jewish parents How then Inquisitors wanted to know had he become a Christian convert Why had a Hebrew alphabet been found in his possession And what was his business at the Court in Madrid He was asked according to his dossier for the story of his life His response more than ten folios long is one of the many involuntary autobiographies created by the logic of the Inquisition that today provide rich insights into both the personal lives of the persecuted and the social cultural and political realities of the age In the first edition of Inquisitorial Inquiries Richard L. Kagan and Abigail Dyer collected translated and annotated six of these autobiographies from a diverse group of prisoners Now they add the fascinating life story of another victim of the Inquisition Esteban Jamete a French sculptor accused of being a Protestant Each of the autobiographies has been selected to represent a particular political or social issue while at the same time raising more intimate questions about the religious sexual political or national identities of the prisoners Among them are a politically incendiary prophet a self-proclaimed hermaphrodite and a morisco an Islamic convert to Catholicism London Circus Henry Baerlein, 1914 The Evolution of Political Ideology Steven Charles Hertler, Aurelio José Figueredo, Mateo Peñaherrera-Aguirre, 2025-10-18 This book applies multilevel selection theory to an examination of both the natural history of ideology and how that natural history has unfolded through the course of civil history in the Western world Its authors bring together research from across the fields of history political science genetics neurobiology and social science to offer an unprecedented synthesis Addressing natural history Part I evolutionarily explains why political ideology is substantially genetic correlates with personality traits and is represented in brain regions associated with risk and emotional processing Addressing civil history Part II traces the evolution of political ideology across anthropological transitions from non-human primates to small-scale societies and across historical transitions from autocratic states through to democratic societies with political parties peaceably transferring power and tolerating opposition In this way its authors aim to demonstrate that temperamental antecedents to political ideology that are biologically derived evolutionarily explicable and historically palpable This book presents timely insights into issues the evolutionary history of hyper-partisanship that will be of interest to scholars across the fields of political science political psychology evolutionary psychology and history Catholic Champion, 1892 The English Catalogue of Books ... Sampson Low, 1909 The English Catalogue of Books [annual], 1909 Vols 1898 include a directory of publishers Jacques-Bénigne Bossuet Ella Katharine Sanders, 1921 Syrian Stone-lore Claude Reignier Conder, 1886 Islam and the Oriental Churches William Ambrose Shedd, 1904 The Faith of the Reformers Edwin Stanton Hodgkin, 1914 Heidelberg Elizabeth Godfrey, 1906
