Encyclopaedia Britannica: Medal-Mumps Hugh Chisholm,1911 This eleventh edition was developed during the encyclopaedia's transition from a British to an American publication. Some of its articles were written by the best known scholars of the time and it is considered to be a landmark encyclopaedia for scholarship and literary style Leopold's Way Edward D. Hoch,1985 Leopold in these 24 stories is the head of homicide later to become the department of violent crimes. Because he is given to interior musing we learn the workings of the mind of a thoughtful detective. Showing Leopold's mind Hoch develops nuances of character rare in mystery stories. The House by the Ferris poses a typical Hoch problem. Ancient crone Stella Gaze predicts that four men will die by earth air fire and water. Leopold is called in when one man drowns and is called again when another burns. The crimes seem to have been concocted by a witch The Encyclopaedia Britannica: Medal-Mumps ,1911 The last great work of the age of reason the final instance when all human knowledge could be presented with a single point of view. Unabashed optimism and unabashed racism pervades many entries in the 11th and provide its defining characteristics. Despite its occasional ugliness the reputation of the 11th persists today because of the staggering depth of knowledge contained with its volumes. It is especially strong in its biographical entries. These delve deeply into the history of men and women prominent in their eras who have since been largely forgotten except by the historians scholars.
