Natural Victims:

Knowing Victims Rebecca Stringer, 2014-06-20 Knowing Victims explores the theme of victimhood in contemporary feminism and politics. It focuses on popular and scholarly constructions of feminism as victim feminism an ideology of passive victimhood that denies women's agency and provides the first comprehensive analysis of the debate about this ideology which has unfolded among feminists since the 1980s. The book critically examines a movement away from the language of victimhood across a wide array of discourses and the neoliberal replacement of the concept of structural oppression with the concept of personal responsibility. In derogating the notion of victim neoliberalism promotes a conception of victimization as subjective rather than social a state of mind rather than a worldly situation. Drawing upon Nietzsche, Lyotard, rape crisis feminism and feminist philosophy Stringer situates feminist politicizations of rape, interpersonal violence, economic inequality and welfare reform as key sites of resistance to the victim blaming logic of neoliberalism. She suggests that although recent feminist critiques of victim feminism have critically diagnosed the anti victim movement they have not positively defended victim politics. Stringer argues that a conception of the victim as an agentic bearer of knowledge and an understanding of resentment as a generative force for social change provides a potent counter to the negative construction of victimhood characteristic of the neoliberal era. This accessible and insightful analysis of feminism, neoliberalism and the social construction of victimhood will be of great interest to researchers and students in the disciplines of gender and women's studies, psychology, sociology, politics and philosophy.

Reparations for Victims of Genocide, War Crimes and Crimes against Humanity Carla Ferstman, Mariana Goetz, Alan Stephens, 2009-04-24 This book provides detailed analyses of systems that have been established to provide reparations to victims of genocide, crimes against humanity and war crimes and the way in which these systems have worked and are working in practice. Many of these systems are described and assessed for the first time in an academic publication. The publication draws upon a groundbreaking Conference organised by the Clemens Nathan Research Centre CNRC and REDRESS at the Peace Palace in The Hague with the support of the Dutch Carnegie Foundation. Both CNRC and REDRESS had become very concerned about the extreme difficulty encountered by most victims of serious international crimes in attempting to access effective and enforceable remedies and reparation for harm suffered. In discussions between the Conference organisers and Judges and officials of the International Criminal Court it became ever more apparent that there was a great need for frank and open exchanges on the question of effective reparation between the representatives of victims of NGOs and IGOs and other experts. It was clear to all that the many current initiatives of governments and regional and international institutions to afford reparations to victims of genocide, crimes against humanity and war crimes could benefit greatly by taking into full account the wide and varied practice that had been built up over several decades. In particular the Hague Conference sought to consider in detail the long experience of the Conference on Jewish Material Claims against Germany the Claims Conference in respect of Holocaust restitution.

programmes as well as the practice of truth commissions arbitral proceedings and a variety of national processes to identify common trends best practices and lessons This book thus explores the actions of governments as well as of national and international courts and commissions in applying processing implementing and enforcing a variety of reparations schemes and awards Crucially it considers the entire complex of issues from the perspective of the beneficiaries survivors and their communities and from the perspective of the policy makers and implementers tasked with resolving technical and procedural challenges in bringing to fruition adequate effective and meaningful reparations in the context of mass victimisation
