Mirror To The American Past A Survey Of American Genre Painting 1750-19:

Mirror to the American Past Hermann Warner Williams, 1973 American Landscape and Genre Paintings in the New-York Historical Society: Naegele-Yorke and unidentified artists New-York Historical Society, 1982 Visual Methods in Marketing and Consumer Research Fatema Kawaf, Ofer Dekel-Dachs, 2024-06-21 Despite the rising popularity of visual research methods from images and collages to videos and animations there is an imminent need for a book that can be a point of reference for learning about visual methods in the field of marketing and consumer research. This book offers a comprehensive outlook of visual research methods in the field highlighting their value and offering a practical guide for researchers. Building on the experiences and discussions of both experienced and aspiring visual researchers the editors present this book as a go to guide for doing visual research in marketing and consumer research. This book encompasses nine chapters guiding the readers through the ABCs of visual research from philosophy to data collection and analysis with a dedicated chapter on research dissemination. You can expect detailed discussions on the ontological and epistemological stance of visual research as well as an elaborate yet simple to follow guide of all aspects of data collection for various forms of visuals be it static images, memes, collages, videos, animations and so on. The purpose of this book is not only to highlight the value of visual methods in consumer research but also to move this work on and offer a go to hands on guide for novice visual researchers and PhD candidates who wish to conduct rigorous visual research. It will be a valuable resource not only for those particularly across marketing disciplines including consumer research and behaviour but also for visual researchers in fields such as sociology and anthropology.

Crying the News Vincent DiGirolamo, 2019 Crying the News: A History of America's Newsboys is the first book to place newsboys at the center of American history analyzing their inseparable role as economic actors and cultural symbols in the creation of print capitalism, popular democracy and national character. DiGirolamo's sweeping narrative traces the shifting fortunes of these little merchants over a century of war and peace, prosperity and depression, exploitation and reform, chronicling their exploits in every region of the country as well as on the railroads that linked them.

Playing It Straight Jennifer A. Greenhill, 2012-08-01 Outgrowth of the author's thesis Yale University 2007 under the title The plague of jocularity: contesting humor in American art and culture 1863-1893

John Ferguson Weir Betsy Fahlman, 1997 This monograph is the first scholarly study of John Ferguson Weir 1841-1926. Weir has been long overshadowed by his father Robert Walter Weir 1803-89 and his Impressionist brother Julian Alden Weir 1852-1919. This volume definitively restores John's reputation. Two major contributions as an artist and as a teacher insure his prominent place in the history of American art. In his paintings he tackled significant subject matter of broad cultural resonance. Weir's forty-four year long career as director of Yale University's School of the Fine Arts also represents a seminal contribution to the nation's cultural history. John Ferguson Weir: The Labor of Art contains over 140 illustrations seven in color. In addition a detailed chronology of Weir's life is contained in an appendix.
