Minotaur Sir Arthur Evans The Archaeol:

Minotaur J. A. MacGillivray,2001 Knossos and the Prophets of Modernism Cathy Gere,2010-09-15 In the spring of 1900 British archaeologist Arthur Evans began to excavate the palace of Knossos on Crete bringing ancient Greek legends to life just as a new century dawned amid far reaching questions about human history art and culture With Knossos and the Prophets of Modernism Cathy Gere relates the fascinating story of Evans s excavation and its long term effects on Western culture After the World War I left the Enlightenment dream in tatters the lost paradise that Evans offered in the concrete labyrinth pacifist and matriarchal pagan and cosmic seemed to offer a new way forward for writers artists and thinkers such as Sigmund Freud James Joyce Giorgio de Chirico Robert Graves and Hilda Doolittle Assembling a brilliant talented and eccentric cast at a moment of tremendous intellectual vitality and wrenching change Cathy Gere paints an unforgettable portrait of the age of concrete and the birth of modernism

An Archaeology of Prehistoric Bodies and Embodied Identities in the Eastern Mediterranean Maria Mina,Sevi Triantaphyllou,Yiannis Papadatos,2016-10-11 In the long tradition of the archaeology of the eastern Mediterranean bodies have held a prominent role in the form of figurines frescos or skeletal remains and have even been responsible for sparking captivating portrayals of the Mother Goddess cult the elegant women of Minoan Crete or the deeds of heroic men Growing literature on the archaeology and anthropology of the body has raised awareness about the dynamic and multifaceted role of the body in experiencing the world and in the construction performance and negotiation of social identity In these 28 thematically arranged papers specialists in the archaeology of the eastern Mediterranean confront the perceived invisibility of past bodies and ask new research questions Contributors discuss new and old evidence they examine how bodies intersect with the material world and explore the role of body situated experiences in creating distinct social and other identities Papers range chronologically from the Palaeolithic to the Early Iron Age and cover the geographical regions of the Aegean Cyprus and the Near East They highlight the new possibilities that emerge for the interpretation of the prehistoric eastern Mediterranean through a combined use of body focused methodological and theoretical perspectives that are nevertheless grounded in the archaeological record

Minoan Archaeology Sarah Cappel,Ute Gunkel-Maschek,Diamantis Panagiotopoulos,2015-10-14 More than 100 years ago Sir Arthur Evans spade made the first cut into the earth above the now well known Palace at Knossos His research saw the birth of a new discipline Minoan Archaeology The present volume aim to outline current trends and prospects of this scientific field

Athyrmata: Critical Essays on the Archaeology of the Eastern Mediterranean in Honour of E. Susan Sherratt Yannis Galanakis,Toby Wilkinson,John Bennet,2014-10-18 This volume brings together twenty six papers to mark Susan Sherratt s 65th birthday a collection that seeks to reflect both her broad range of interests and her ever questioning approach to uncovering the realities of life in Europe and the Mediterranean in later prehistory

A Century of James Frazer's The Golden Bough Stephanie Lynn Budin,Caroline J. Tully,2024-11-21 This multidisciplinary volume examines the ongoing effects of James G Frazer's The Golden Bough in modern Humanities and its wide ranging influence across studies of ancient religions literature historiography and reception studies. The book begins by exploring the life and times of Frazer himself and the writing of The Golden Bough in its cultural milieu. It then goes on to cover a wide range of topics including ancient Near Eastern religion and culture, Minoan religion and in particular the origins of notions of Minoan matriarchy. Frazer's influence on the study of Graeco-Roman religion and magic, Frazer's influence on modern Pagan religions and the effects of Frazer's works in modern culture and scholarship generally. Chapters examine how modern academia and beyond continues to be influenced by the otherwise discredited theories in The Golden Bough, ideas such as Sacred Marriage and the incessant Fertility of Everything. The book demonstrates how scholarship within the Humanities as well as practitioners of alternative religions and the common public remain under the thrall of Frazer over one hundred years since the publication of the abridged edition of The Golden Bough and what we must do to shake off that influence. A Century of James Frazer's The Golden Bough is of interest to scholars and students from a wide range of disciplines including Ancient History, History of Religion, Comparative Religion, Classical Studies, Archaeology, Historiography, Anthropology, Folklore and Reception Studies. Chapter 18 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution CC BY 4.0 license.

The Ancient Sea Hamish Williams, Ross Clare, 2022-11-17

In the ancient Mediterranean world the sea was an essential domain for trade, cultural exchange, communication, exploration and colonisation. In tandem with the lived reality of this maritime space a parallel experience of the sea emerged in narrative representations from ancient Greece and Rome of the sea as a cultural imaginary. This imaginary seems often to oscillate between two extremes the utopian and the catastrophic. Such representations can be found in narratives from ancient history, philosophy, society and literature as well as in their post-classical receptions. Utopia can be found in some imaginary island paradise far away and across the distant sea; the sea can hold an unknown, mysterious, divine wealth below its surface and the sea itself as a powerful watery body can hold a liberating potential. The utopian quality of the sea and seafaring can become a powerful metaphor for articulating political notions of the ideal state or for expressing an individual's sense of hope and subjectivity. Yet the catastrophic sea balances any perfective imaginings; the sea threatens coastal inhabitants with floods, tsunamis and earthquakes and sailors with storms and the accompanying monsters. From symbolic perspectives the catastrophic sea represents violence, instability, the savage and even cosmological chaos. The twelve papers in this volume explore the themes of utopia and catastrophe in the liminal environment of the sea through the lens of history, philosophy, literature and classical reception.

Sir Arthur Evans and Minoan Crete Nanno Marinatos, 2014-12-22

Before Sir Arthur Evans the principal object of Greek prehistoric archaeology was the reconstruction of history in relation to myth.

European travellers to Greece viewed its picturesque ruins as the gateway to mythical times while Heinrich Schliemann at the end of the nineteenth century allegedly uncovered at Troy and Mycenae the legendary cities of the Homeric epics It was Evans who in his controversial excavations at Knossos steered Aegean archaeology away from Homer towards the broader Mediterranean world Yet in so doing he is thought to have done his own inventing recreating the Cretan Labyrinth via the Bronze Age myth of the Minotaur Nanno Marinatos challenges the entrenched idea that Evans was nothing more than a flamboyant researcher who turned speculation into history She argues that Evans was an excellent archaeologist one who used scientific observation and classification Evans's combination of anthropology comparative religion and analysis of cultic artefacts enabled him to develop a bold new method which Sir James Frazer called mental anthropology It was this approach that led him to propose remarkable ideas about Minoan religion theories that are now being vindicated as startling new evidence comes to light Examining the frescoes from Akrotiri on Santorini that are gradually being restored the author suggests that Evans's hypothesis of one unified goddess of nature is the best explanation of what they signify Evans was in 1901 ahead of his time in viewing comparable Minoan scenes as a blend of ritual action and mythic imagination Nanno Marinatos is a leading authority on Minoan religion In this latest book she combines history archaeology and myth to bold and original effect offering a wholly new appraisal of Evans and the significance of his work Sir Arthur Evans and Minoan Crete will be essential reading for all students of Minoan civilization as well as an irresistible companion for travellers to Crete

Essays in Aegean Archaeology Presented to Sir Arthur Evans in Honour of His 75th Birthday Stanley Casson,1927 Great Moments in Greek Archaeology Panos Valavanēs,2007 This beautifully illustrated book offers a wide ranging overview of the greatest archaeological sites and discoveries from ancient Greece The contributors a veritable who's who of the most venerable names in Greek archaeology include both those who have excavated at the sites in question and scholars who have spent a lifetime studying the monuments about which they write Presented here are the legendary sites of ancient Greece including the Athenian Acropolis Olympia Delphi Schliemann's Mycenae and the Athenian Agora the most iconic sculptures in the Greek world such as the Aphrodite of Melos and the Nike of Samothrace and several fascinating chapters on underwater archaeology discussing the Kyrenia and Uluburun shipwrecks and the astonishing bronze masterpieces raised from the sea This is the first book to bring together the archaeological legacy of ancient Greece in a concise and accessible way while still preserving the excitement of discovery

The Minotaur of Knossos Roberta Angeletti,1999 Robbie is magically transported with his dog Pip to the Minoan palace of Knossos where he meets Arthur Evans the archaeologist who reconstructed the palace Robbie goes off in search of Pip but he finds instead the legendary Minotaur half man half bull Then he wakes but was it a dream

Archaeology and European Modernity Yannis Hamilakis,Nicoletta Momigliano,2006 The Literary Review ,2000 Knossos James Whitley,2023-07-27 Knossos is one of the most important sites in the ancient Mediterranean It remained amongst the largest settlements on the island of

Crete from the Neolithic until the late Roman times but aside from its size it held a place of particular significance in the mythological imagination of Greece and Rome as the seat of King Minos the location of the labyrinth and the home of the Minotaur Sir Arthur Evans discovery of the Palace of Minos and his invention of the Minoans has indelibly associated Knossos in the modern mind with the lost civilisation of Bronze Age Crete The allure of this lost civilisation together with the considerable achievements of Minoan artists and craftspeople remain a major attraction both to scholars and to others outside the academic world as a bastion of a romantic cultural historical approach to the past In this volume James Whitley provides an up to date guide to the site and its function within Bronze Age palatial society as well as an exploration of the history of Knossos in the archaeological imagination In doing so he takes a critical look at the guiding assumptions of Evans and others reconstructing how and why the received view of this ancient settlement has evolved from the Iron Age up to the modern era

Journal of the Royal Historical and Archaeological Association of Ireland Royal Society of Antiquaries of Ireland, 1923 Index of archaeological papers published in 1891 under the direction of the Congress of Archaeological Societies in union with the Society of Antiquaries Aegean Archaeology Harry Reginald Hall, 1915 The Journal of Hellenic Studies, 1919 Vols 1-8 1880-87 plates published separately and numbered I-LXXXIII Greek Art and Archaeology John Griffiths Pedley, 2012 Now in its fifth edition Greek Art and Archaeology charts the achievements of Greek art and civilization over 3000 years from the abstract figures of the Cycladic islands and the mighty palaces of Crete to the baroque sculptures and complex architecture of the Hellenistic kingdoms This new edition introduces a wealth of new material including discussion and illustration of new findings at early Bronze Age sites in Crete and the Cycladic Islands the fourteenth century bc Uluburun shipwreck the evolution of coinage in the Greek city states the purpose and function of temples and the kouros figure in Archaic Greece new ideas on interpreting the frieze of the Parthenon and expanded coverage of the wealth and culture of Macedon In addition there are over 50 new color images of key works in the history of Greek art including the Hera of Samos the Motya charioteer the Parthenon frieze and newly commissioned photography of one of the masterpieces of later Greek art the Alexander Sarcophagus Written in a clear style the book neatly balances lucid description with insightful interpretation and discussion Intended for students and art enthusiasts of any age it provides the most accessible and authoritative introduction to Greek art and archaeology available today Art and Archaeology, 1922
