Miracle Town Springhill Nova Scotia:

Miracle Town James B. Brown, 1983 Urban and community development in Atlantic Canada, 1867-1991 ,1993-01-01

This book offers the first comprehensive overview of community development for the Atlantic Provinces. The authors take a collaborative approach to their research question and contribute more than just a survey on urban development. They also create a framework for understanding the relationship between the development of towns and cities in Atlantic Canada and in other parts of the country. Published in English Last Man Out Melissa Fay Greene, 2015-09-24. The deepest coal mine in North America was notoriously unpredictable. One late October evening in 1958 it bumped its rock floors heaving up and smashing into rock ceilings. A few miners staggered out most of the 174 on shift did not. Nineteen men were trapped plunged into darkness hunger thirst and hallucination. As days and nights passed the survivors began to hope for death by gas rather than from thirst. Above ground journalists and families stood in despairing vigil as rescuers brought out scores of the dead. The hope of finding life underground faded and families made funeral preparations. Then a miracle. Rescuers stumbled across a broken pipe leading to a cave of survivors then a second group was discovered. A media circus followed. Ed Sullivan then the state of Georgia invited survivors to visit. Publicity politics and segregation sorted the men differently than they had ordered themselves. Underground the one black survivor nursed a dying man in Atlanta. Governor Marvin Griffin said I will not shake hands with a Negro. If every great writer has one tale of peril heroism and survival Last Man Out is Melissa Fay Greene's. Using long lost stories and interviews with survivors Greene has reconstructed the drama of their struggle to stay alive.

Urban and Community Development in Atlantic Canada, 1867-1991 Carleton University. History

Collaborative, Canadian Museum of Civilization, 1993. This book which arose from a graduate seminar in Maritime history in 1991-92 offers the first systematic and comparative overview of community development for the entire Atlantic region. The book assesses the published census returns from Confederation to the present to track the growth and development of each town and city in the region and surveys aspects of the region's political economy since Confederation paying close attention to the rise and fall of an industrial core and the emergent dependencies that were being reshaped by the expanding of government in determining the fate of Atlantic Canada. A typology of community experiences is followed by a reflection on the consequences for the contemporary urban scene of political and economic transformation. Mercury Series ,1983
