Mirning We Are The Whales:

The Shore Whalers of Western Australia Martin Gibbs, 2010-07-21 Every winter between 1836 to 1879 small wooden boats left the bays of southwest Western Australia to hunt for migrating Humpback and Right whales Mirning Iris Burgoyne, 2000 Iris Burgoyne lives through phenomenal tides of change in this family history from the Mirning and Kookatha people of South Australia's stormy west coast A stunning feast of archival photographs detail a social portrait of the People of the Whales who were determined to overcome social oppression and intense religious persuasion Report of the Departmental Committee on Whaling & Whale-curing in the North of Scotland Great Britain. Departmental Committee on Whaling and Whale-curing, 1904 Women in the Wilderness China Galland, 1980 Recordings Relating to the Life of Iris Burgoyne [sound Recording]. Iris Burgoyne, 1994 Recordings relating to the life of Iris Burgoyne for the book Mirning we are the whales a Mirning Kookatha woman recounts life before and after dispossession by Iris Yumadoo Kochallalya Burgoyne Iris worked with Tanja Perre when putting the book together Early years Elliston massacre CD 7 and first contact law and spirits Koonibba camp people and Micky Free life after Koonibba Woomera Mirning peoples commentary by Iris watching Koonibba video Port Lincoln family childhood friends and Pastor Clem Eckerman Koonibba is situated about 40 kilometres north west of Ceduna The Eye of the Whale: a Rescue Story (Tilbury House Nature Book) Jennifer O'Connell, 2016-03-15 On a cool December morning near San Francisco a distress call was radioed to shore by a local fisherman He had discovered a humpback whale tangled in hundreds of yards of crab trap lines struggling to stay afloat A team of volunteers answered the call and four divers risked their lives to rescue the enormous animal It was the first successful whale disentanglement performed off the West Coast of the United States and prompted a rare and remarkable demonstration of animal behavior This celebrated story beautifully depicted in Jennifer O Connells mesmerizing paintings will make you wonder about animal emotions and the unique connections we can have with other animals seven whales To research The Eye of the Whale Jennifer traveled to San Francisco where she met Captain Mick Menigoz and rode his rescue boat Superfish out into the Pacific Ocean to the area where the events in the book took place This experience fueled her inspiration as she created the images and words of this extraordinary story Soundings Doreen Cunningham, 2022-07-12 A gorgeous journey You will be glad you've joined her Susan Orlean author of On Animals and The Library Book In this lyrical memoir of motherhood love and resilience that captures rarely observed natural places San Francisco Chronicle a woman and her toddler son follow the grey whale migration from Mexico to northernmost Alaska In this striking brave and often lyrical The Guardian blend of nature writing whale science and memoir Doreen Cunningham interweaves two stories tracking the extraordinary northward migration of the grey whales with a mischievous toddler in tow and living with an Iupiaq family in Alaska seven years earlier A story of courage and resilience Soundings is about the migrating whales and all we can learn from them as they mother adapt and endure their lives interrupted and threatened by global warming It is also a riveting journey onto the Arctic Sea ice and into the changing world of Indigenous whale hunters where Doreen becomes immersed in the ancient values of the I upiaq whale hunt and falls in love Big hearted brave and fearlessly honest Soundings is an unforgettable journey Face to Face with Whales Linda Nicklin,2010-08-24 You slip over the side of your boat descending deep into the dark realm of the Earth s largest creature Then the whale starts to sing just feet away from you Photographer Flip Nicklin brings you face to face with whales as they communicate nurse their young and surface dramatically for air Learn of the different kinds of whales discover how we can aid their recovery from years of overhunting and how we can protect their environment There She Blows! William Hussey Macy,1899 Show Us Where You Live, Humpback Beryl Young,2021-05-25 Reflects great admiration and wonder for all humpback whales A true homage to these wondrous creatures Kirkus STARRED Review This evocative picture book celebrates a child s connection and kinship with whales Swimming singing and blowing bubbles children and baby whales love many of the same things This lyrical picture book shows us how whales underwater lives are touchingly like our own Patterned in a call and response format Show Us Where You Live Humpback begs to be read aloud at bedtime and includes Wondrous facts about humpback whales A celebration of our connection with the natural world Beautiful and captivating illustrations At the story s end acclaimed author Beryl Young and debut illustrator Sakika Kikuchi leave readers gently falling asleep dreaming of the wonderful world we share with whales Poetry to Save the Whales Issoufou Ouattara,2010-07-04 When I decided to writeThe Night is Falling But it is only the beginning I wanted to advocate for the whales so that my readers will become a voice for them I have no doubt that the safeguard this precious species is an urgent and continuous commitment to make The night is falling But it is Only the Morning is portraying the innocence of the whales which are being slaughtered by commercial fishermen while there is no serious laws to protect them This poetry book is therefore a call for an enforced moratorium on commercial whaling knowing that thousands of whales are being slaughtered The title The Night is Falling But it is Only the Beginning is also a symbolic message to the decision makers of the world so that we understand that when the night falls for the whales by this I mean if the we exterminate the whales the night will fall as well for humankind since in the end all species are connected through the cycle of life The whales have been slaughtered way too much It is high time that we joined the effort of the many who are leading the battle to save the whales May this book of poetry be an encouragement to the whale rights advocates On the fifth day of the creation God made the whales They were made before the humans let them be tthere after the humans Let not the night fall for them let not a morning of hardship begin for humankind The Night is Falling But it is Only the Morning is an awareness call for all humankind A world without whales would be a sad world indeed Face to Face With Whales Flip Nicklin,2008-05-13 You slip over the side of your boat descending deep into the dark realm of the Earth s largest creature Then the whale starts to sing just feet away from you You record the sounds hoping one day to understand their language Their music is a rare glimpse of this majestic mammal s unknown world Photographer Flip Nicklin brings you face to face with whales as they communicate nurse their young and surface dramatically for air Meet these intelligent social creatures in their natural habitat learn of the different kinds of whales from humpbacks to belugas discover how we can aid their recovery from years of overhunting and how we can protect their environment A Savage History John Newton,2013 A Savage History tells the rich history of whales and whaling We learn about these highly intelligent and magnificent creatures and follow the stories of whalers from the eighteenth century who hunted their prey along the coasts of Australia and New Zealand across the Pacific and into the Southern Ocean Inside jacket When the Whales Leave Yuri Rytkeu,2019-12-05 This fable of an indigenous Arctic people offers profound considerations about stewardship of and people s relationships to the natural world Publishers Weekly Nau cannot remember a time when she was not one with the world around her with the fast breeze the green grass the high clouds and the endless blue sky above the Shingled Spit But her greatest joy is to visit the sea where whales gather every morning to gaily spout rainbows Then one day she finds a man in the mist where a whale should be Reu who has taken human form out of his Great Love for her Together these first humans become parents to two whales and then to mankind Even after Reu dies Nau continues on sharing her story of brotherhood between the two species But as these origins grow distant the old woman s tales are subsumed into myth and her descendants are increasingly bent on parading their dominance over the natural world Buoyantly translated into English for the first time by Ilona Yashin Chavasse this new entry in the Seedbank series is at once a vibrant retelling of the origin story of the Chukchi a timely parable about the destructive power of human ego and another unforgettable work of fiction from Yuri Rytkeu arguably the foremost writer to emerge from the minority peoples of Russia s far north New York Review of Books We have so little intimate information about these Arctic people and the writer s deep emotional attachment to this landscape of ice today melting away under global warming forces makes every sentence seem a poetic revelation Annie Proulx If You Ever Meet a Whale Myra Cohn Livingston,1992 A collection of poems about whales by such authors as Jane Yolen Theodore Roethke and John Ciardi Fathoms Rebecca Giggs,2020-04-28 When Rebecca Giggs encountered a humpback whale stranded on her local beach in Australia she began to wonder how the lives of whales might shed light on the condition of our seas How do whales experience environmental change Has our connection to these fabled animals been transformed by technology What future awaits us and them And what does it mean to write about nature in the midst of an ecological crisis In Fathoms the world in the whale Giggs blends natural history philosophy and science to explore these questions with clarity and hope In lively inventive prose she introduces us to whales so rare they have never been named she tells us of the astonishing variety found in whale sounds and of whale pop songs that sweep across hemispheres She takes us into the deeps to discover that one whale s death can spark a great flourishing of creatures We travel to Japan to board whaling ships examine the uncanny charisma of these magnificent mammals and confront the plastic pollution now pervading their underwater environment In the spirit of Rachel Carson and John Berger Fathoms is a work of profound insight and wonder that marks the arrival of an essential new voice in narrative nonfiction and provides us with a powerful surprising and compelling view of some of the most urgent issues of our time We Leap Together Christopher Silas Neal,2025-04-01 An awe inspiring nonfiction picture book perfect for animal lovers that reveals how a mama whale and a mama person care for their young in remarkably similar ways from the illustrator of Over and Under the Snow A little boy and his mother set off on a day trip meanwhile a mama whale and her calf swim towards the bay On the way both sing blow bubbles get lost and found Through it all mama always stays close The human pair board a sightseeing boat and as the whales reach the harbor they all converge in one spectacular scene With lyrical text and absolutely magnificent art here s a book that celebrates our connection to animals and to each other Follow the Whale Ivan Terence Sanderson,2022-10-27 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant Whales Are Amazing... Just Like You! Viehmann,2014-07-22 Whaling and Fishing Charles Nordhoff,2013-09 This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book without typos from the publisher Not indexed Not illustrated 1895 edition Excerpt CHAPTER IV Land Ho Fayal Anxiety of all hands to get ashore Portuguese Their resignation Fruit We continue the voyage Fitting the vessel for her cruise Drilling the crew in the boats The line Chasing Blackfish ProvisionsCooks At length the summits of the Azores heaved out of the water in the blue distance Land ho was a cry joyful to all but particularly to those who were now making their first trip I do not know of a more pleasing sensation than that which animates one on for the first time beholding a strange coast supposing that coast to be invested with some interest in the mind of the beholder and that it is seen in fine weather Both these conditions were fulfilled in the present case Our Portuguese shipmates had for the past week spoken of scarcely anything else but Fayal the Peak of Pico and the various islands which compose the group called the Azores praising above all the fruitfulness of the soil the genial climate and the quiet innocenre of the people The weather was lovely and as the blue summit of Pico showed itself in the hazy distance while a light breeze rippled over the smooth sea and urged our vessel landward all were for a while THELAND 57 subdued and entered heart and spirit into the peaceful scene It was midday when we raised the land On turning out next morning we found our ship lying becalmed in front of the vast Peak of Pico which at a distance of some ten or twelve miles seemed almost overhanging the vessel All was now bustle and preparation The Portuguese usually so taciturn were excited beyond all measure and as under the pressure of a gentle breeze we neared the land they eagerly pointed out to each other and to the crew various objects familiar to them
