Ashgate Research Companion to Dutch Art of the Seventeenth Century Wayne Franits,2017-07-05 Despite the tremendous number of studies produced annually in the field of Dutch art over the last 30 years or so and the strong contemporary market for works by Dutch masters of the period as well as the public s ongoing fascination with some of its most beloved painters until now there has been no comprehensive study assessing the state of research in the field As the first study of its kind this book is a useful resource for scholars and advanced students of seventeenth century Dutch art and also serves as a springboard for further research Its 19 chapters divided into three sections and written by a team of internationally renowned art historians address a wide variety of topics ranging from those that might be considered traditional to others that have only drawn scholarly attention comparatively recently    Jacob Van Ruisdael Seymour Slive,2001-01-01 If you know the 26 letters of the alphabet and can count to 99 or are just learning you ll love Tana Hoban s brilliant creation This innovative concept book is two books in one    Changing Representations of Nature and the City

Gabriel N. Gee,Alison Vogelaar,2018-07-04 The turn of the 1960s 70s characterized by the rapid acceleration of globalization prompted a radical transformation in the perception of urban and natural environments The urban revolution and related prospect of the total urbanisation of the planet in concert with rapid population growth and resource exploitation instigated a surge in environmental awareness and activism One implication of this moment is a growing recognition of the integration and interconnection of natural and urban entities The present collection is an interdisciplinary inquiry into the changing modes of representation of nature in the city beginning from the turn of the 1960s 70s Bringing together a number of different disciplinary approaches including architectural studies and aesthetics heritage studies and economics environmental science and communication the collection reflects upon the changing perception of socio natures in the context of increasing urban expansion and global interconnectedness as they are were manifest in specific representations Using cases studies from around the globe the collection offers a historical and theoretical understanding of a paradigmatic shift whose material and symbolic legacies are still accompanying us in the early 21st century    Rembrandt and the Golden Age of Dutch Art Ruud Priem,Dayton Art Institute,Phoenix Art Museum,2006 Rembrandt and the Golden Age of

Dutch Art celebrates an unprecedented era in the history of art Drawn from the superb collections of Amsterdam's famed Rijksmuseum the works of art featured here are a testament to the richness and variety of the paintings prints and decorative arts produced in the Netherlands in the 17th century In a unique approach Ruud Priem leads the viewer through the highlights of the Golden Age beginning with the artists themselves and their studios emerging into busy city streets and the bucolic Dutch countryside and sampling the variety of 17th century life and culture Featured are ninety dazzling works by preeminent Dutch artists Rembrandt van Rijn Frans Hals Jacob van Ruisdael Pieter de Hooch and Jan Steen among them

"Prints in Translation, 1450?750 " Edward H. Wouk, 2017-07-05 Printed artworks were often ephemeral but in the early modern period exchanges between print and other media were common setting off chain reactions of images and objects that endured Paintings sculpture decorative arts musical or scientific instruments and armor exerted their own influence on prints while prints provided artists with paper veneers templates and sources of adaptable images This interdisciplinary collection unites scholars from different fields of art history who elucidate the agency of prints on more traditionally valued media and vice versa Contributors explore how after translations across traditional geographic temporal and material boundaries original meanings may be lost reconfigured or subverted in surprising ways whether a Netherlandish motif graces a cabinet in Italy or the print itself colored or copied is integrated into the calligraphic scheme of a Persian royal album These intertwined relationships yield unexpected yet surprisingly prevalent modes of perception Andrea Mantegna's 1470-1500 Battle of the Sea Gods an engraving that emulates the properties of sculpted relief was in fact reborn as relief sculpture and fabrics based on print designs were reapplied to prints returning color and tactility to the very objects from which they derived Together the essays in this volume witness a methodological shift in the study of print from examining the printed image as an index of an absent invention in another medium a painting sculpture or drawing to considering its role as a generative active agent driving modes of invention and perception far beyond the locus of its production
