The Mirror and the Palette Jennifer Higbie,2021-10-05 A dazzlingly original and ambitious book on the history of female self portraiture by one of today's most well respected art critics. Her story weaves in and out of time and place. She is Frida Kahlo, Loïs Mailou Jones, and Amrita Sher-Gil en route to Mexico City, Paris, or Bombay. She is Suzanne Valadon and Gwen John, craving city lights, the sea, and solitude. She is Artemisia Gentileschi striding through the streets of Naples and Paula Modersohn-Becker in Worpswede. She is haunting museums in her paint-stained dress, scrutinising how El Greco or Titian or Van Dyck or Cézanne solved the problems that she too is facing. She is railing against her corsets, her chaperones, her husband and her brothers, she is hammering on doors, dreaming in her bedroom, working day and night in her studio. Despite the immense hurdles that have been placed in her way, she sits at her easel, picks up a mirror and paints a self-portrait because as a subject she is always available. Until the twentieth century, art history was in the main written by white men who tended to write about other white men. The idea that women in the West have always made art was rarely cited as a possibility. Yet they have and of course continue to do so, often against tremendous odds from laws and religion to the pressures of family and public disapproval. In The Mirror and the Palette, Jennifer Higbie introduces us to a cross section of women artists who embody the fact that there is more than one way to understand our planet, more than one way to live in it, and more than one way to make art about it. Spanning 500 years, biography and cultural history intertwine in a narrative packed with tales of rebellion, adventure, revolution, travel and tragedy enacted by women who turned their back on convention and lived lives of great resilience, creativity and bravery.

Portraiture and Photography in Africa John Peffer, Elisabeth L. Cameron, 2013-07-24

Beautifully illustrated, Portrait Photography in Africa offers new interpretations of the cultural and historical roles of photography in Africa. Twelve leading scholars look at early photographs, important photographers, studios, the uses of portraiture in the 19th century and the current passion for portraits in Africa. They review a variety of topics, including what defines a common culture of photography, the social and political implications of changing technologies for portraiture and the lasting effects of culture on the idea of the person depicted in the photographic image.

The Portrait of a Mirror A. Natasha Joukovsky, 2021-06-01

A stunning reinvention of the myth of Narcissus as a modern novel of manners about two young, well-heeled couples whose parallel lives converge and intertwine over the course of a summer by a sharp new voice in fiction. Wes and Diana are the kind of privileged, well-educated self-involved New Yorkers you may not want to like but can't help wanting to like you With his boyish good looks blue blood pedigree and the recent tidy valuation of his tech startup Wes would have made any woman weak in the knees any woman that is except perhaps his wife Brilliant to the point of cunning Diana possesses her own arsenal of charms handily deployed against Wes in their constant wars of will and rhetorical sparring Vivien and Dale live in Philadelphia but with ties to the same prep schools and management consulting firms as Wes and Diana they're of the same ilk With a wedding date on the horizon and carefully curated life of coupledom Vivien and Dale make a picture perfect pair on Instagram But when Vivien becomes a visiting curator at The Metropolitan Museum of Art just as Diana is starting a new consulting project in Philadelphia the two couples lives cross and tangle It's the summer of 2015 and they're all enraptured by one another and too engulfed in desire to know what they want despite knowing just how to act In this wickedly fun debut A Natasha Joukovsky crafts an absorbing portrait of modern romance rousing real sympathy for these flawed characters even as she skewers them Shrewdly observed whip smart and shot through with wit and good humor The Portrait of a Mirror is a piercing exploration of narcissism desire self delusion and the great mythology of love Photography and the Body in Nineteenth-century France Anne E. Linton,Raisa Rexer,2021-01-01 The first Yale French Studies issue on photography examining French photography's place in art identity and society through a lens of diversity and interdisciplinary investigation In its first issue on photography this volume of Yale French Studies presents multiple avenues of interdisciplinary investigation designed to intersect and open up new areas of inquiry in the twenty first century These intersections push beyond traditional geographic and gender boundaries exploring women's photography new cultural contexts trans orientalism and minority and marginalized bodies As they do so they ask us to reconsider the way that we conceive of photography's place in the past and in our lives today Ryan McGinley Ryan McGinley,Ariana Reines,2018-10-16 Ryan McGinley one of the most important photographers of his generation asks his friends and colleagues to take the camera into their own hands Following instructions given to them by the artist a group of individuals explore their own image Ryan McGinley since the earliest days of his unparalleled career has chronicled his friends and cohorts Whether on the now legendary annual road trips he has organized with a large coterie of twentysomethings documenting summertime exploits or documenting the early gritty years in downtown New York McGinley is known as the consummate storyteller about freedom and abandon of youth A few years ago however he wanted to challenge his creative habits and asked more than one hundred of his friends and colleagues guided by detailed instructions and a camera given to them by the artist to take nude self portraits using mirrors and other props Though related to the ubiquitous selfie the participants didn't have the benefit of seeing the image before they clicked the shutter Furthermore McGinley would make the selection of the final image to represent the photo session The experiment yielded scores of intimate and psychologically revealing photos that even though not done by his own hand bear some signature McGinley flourishes in their emotional depth and resonance
