Mirrors for Rebels, a Study of Polemical Literature Relating to the Northern Rebellion, 1569, by James K. Lowers James K. Lowers, 1953 Mirrors for rebels: a study of polemical literature relating to the Northern Rebellion 1569 James K. Lowers, Mirrors for Rebels James K. Lowers, 1953 Shakespeare's Tudor History: A Study of Henry IV Parts 1 and 2 Tom McAlindon, 2017-11-01 This title was first published in 2002 An intensive study of Shakespeare's most ambitious and complex achievement in the historical mode The book offers an account of the play's critical history from 1700 until the 1980s deals with the aspects of Tudor history relevant to an understanding and offers close readings of the text structured around what the author believes to be the play's three dominant concepts time truth and grace In an attempt to correct what he sees as a certain falsification of critical history the author aligns his account of the play's reception with one of its major preoccupations the inescapable and informing presence of the past Renaissance Studies Malcolm Smith, 1999 Les articles de Malcolm Smith sur la littérature française de la Renaissance tudes qui n'ont jamais n'glig les dimensions politiques et religieuses New Directions in Local History Since Hoskins Christopher Dyer, Andrew James Hopper, Evelyn Lord, Nigel J. Tringham, 2011 Local history in Britain can trace its origins back to the sixteenth century and before but it was given inspiration and a new sense of direction in the 1950s and 60s by the work of W G Hoskins This book marks the fiftieth anniversary of the publication of his Local history in England which was designed to help people researching the history of their own villages and towns It is the result of a collaboration between academic historians in the Centre for English Local History at the University of Leicester which Hoskins founded and the British Association for Local History an organisation that brings together the thousands of people who are not professional academics but who practise local history Taking the work of Hoskins as a starting point the contributors show how local history is being researched and written today Fifteen historians write about a variety of local history subjects which are significant in their own right but which also point to current trends in the subject They show how local historians use their sources systematically from the non verbal evidence of buildings to various types of electronic resources All periods between the middle ages and the early twenty first century are explored as are many different parts of the country from Skye to the Kent coast There are examples of local historians working on ethnic minorities gender and the working class Those who study localities use a variety of approaches including those of social economic religious legal intellectual and cultural history all of which are employed here They are aware of the roots of their subject and examine the history of local history itself Together the editors and authors raise the various dilemmas which stimulate debates among local historians about the nature of the subject its present health and the directions it will take in the next half century Shakespeare Survey Stanley Wells, Jonathan Bate, Michael Dobson, 2002-11-28 The first fifty volumes of this yearbook of Shakespeare studies are being reissued in paperback The Aspiring Mind of the Elizabethan Younger Generation Anthony Esler, 1966 This book applies the generational concept so useful to students of our own time to the study of Elizabethan history Written in the form of a group biography of a generation of Renaissance English aristocrats born about the year 1560 this study focuses on the courtier class and their aspirations for military honor and political power The social intellectual and historical factors that produced their hard driving personal ambition are examined and illustrated in the careers of such celebrated Elizabethan courtiers as Sir Walter Raleigh Sir Robert Cecil the Earl of Essex and the Buccaneer Earl of Cumberland The young courtiers of this generation passionate questers after honor and glory went to war against the Spaniards in the 1580 s and did their share to help defeat the Spanish Armada in 1588 Thereafter in the 1590 s they intrigued feverishly at the court of the aging Queen Elizabeth for political influence and high place The impact of war and politics on these young men and on their exalted aspirations for power and glory were duly chronicled and anatomized by the perceptive writers of their generation The role of the literary and philosophical reflections of these high aspiring minds in the birth and spread of the idea of progress are studied in the writings of such diverse talents as Francis Bacon Christopher Marlowe Sir Phillip Sidney Edmund Spenser and William Shakespeare As young men the generation of 1560 felt that the young generation of their fathers who were in power was holding them in check and was too conservative But when they were themselves middle aged or growing old their ambition was still unrealized This failure and the resulting frustration were basic causes of the melancholy mood of the late Elizabethan and Jacobean times As this melancholy view of the world became widespread the generation of 1560 began to see the validity of their father s lessons They became more conservative and like their predecessors a half century before they began to realize their arrogant ambition often led to disaster Publisher
