Mining Tsar Kett Howard Kennedy, 1986-01      The Race to Save the Romanovs Helen Rappaport, 2018-06-26 In this international bestseller investigating the murder of the Russian Imperial Family Helen Rappaport embarks on a quest to uncover the various plots and plans to save them why they failed and who was responsible The murder of the Romanov family in July 1918 horrified the world and its aftershocks still reverberate today In Putin s autocratic Russia the Revolution itself is considered a crime and its anniversary was largely ignored In stark contrast the centenary of the massacre of the Imperial Family was commemorated in 2018 by a huge ceremony attended by the Patriarch of the Russian Orthodox Church While the murders themselves have received major attention what has never been investigated in detail are the various plots and plans behind the scenes to save the family on the part of their royal relatives other governments and Russian monarchists loyal to the Tsar Rappaport refutes the claim that the fault lies entirely with King George V as has been the traditional view for the last century The responsibility for failing the Romanovs must be equally shared The question of asylum for the Tsar and his family was an extremely complicated issue that presented enormous political logistical and geographical challenges at a time when Europe was still at war Like a modern day detective Helen Rappaport draws on new and never before seen sources from archives in the US Russia Spain and the UK creating a powerful account of near misses and close calls with a heartbreaking conclusion With its up to the minute research The Race to Save the Romanovs is sure to replace outdated classics as the final word on the fate of the Romanovs      The Life of Herbert Hoover George H. Nash, 1983 His family life business affairs and the other aspects of his life with the larger historical context Book Jacket      Reflecting Imperial Overstretch and New Realities Brian O'Sullivan, 2024-07-03 This book is the first comprehensive history of the British Trade Corporation which was constituted under a Royal Charter on 21st April 1917 Its charter was meant to last for sixty years but in 1926 after a turbulent existence of only nine years it was amalgamated with the Anglo Austrian Bank and absorbed into the Anglo International Bank The corporation together with its two main subsidiaries the Levant Company and the National Bank of Turkey conducted business not only in Britain but in Russia Turkey the Middle East and in Continental Europe Although the corporation was not an agent of empire it reflected Britain s imperialistic ambitions after the First World War As a result it invested in some of the most unstable regions of the world It was also severely affected by British foreign policy which was often misjudged and at times duplicitous resulting in serious damage to British trade Within five years of its launch the British Trade Corporation needed to be refinanced The economic downturn in the early 1920s and ongoing hostilities in Eastern Europe and the Near East meant that it struggled to survive Its difficulties reflected many of those faced by Britain in general after the war and the need to come to terms with the new realities of the post war world Despite its innovative attempt to address the perceived deficiencies in Britain s financial system especially in respect of industrial finance the British Trade Corporation has been largely ignored by financial historians Based on substantial archival research this book rectifies this neglect and makes an important contribution to the financial history of interwar Britain

Some of Australia's leading historians present new perspectives on social and cultural life in the 1950s The 1950s is usually treated in the popular media as a metaphor for an Australia that was complacent monocultural banal and domesticated On the other hand historical writing about the decade has long been dominated by accounts of political and foreign policy conflict the Labor Split the Cold War and the seemingly endless long summer of Robert Menzies This collection assembles some of Australia's leading historians to present new perspectives on the 1950s Focusing on social and cultural themes they reveal a decade full of contradictions which belie the common simplistic accounts of the time Ranging from the education of the young Barry Humphries to the idea of an Australian identity in the lead up to the 1956 Olympics these essays also include the personal recollections of three leading historians providing a lively and critical insight into the Australia of the period Drawing out themes such as style sexuality modernism the suburbs travel writing and immigrant assimilation the authors excavate the experience of everyday life and the attitudes that characterised the 1950s They present a past that despite having shaped our lives continues to be disputed in contemporary Australia
