Ministry by the People F. Ross Kinsler, 1983 Published for the Programme on Theological Education of the World Council of Churches Verso t p Bibliography p 324 331 Ministry by the People F. Ross Kinsler, 1983 Preach the Word Myles MacBean, 2019-11-11 How should we help equip the church leaders of Africa today There remains a well documented lack of theologically sound Bible centric preaching in Sub Saharan Africa The majority of sermons are preached by untrained or undertrained church leaders Following a practical theology praxis this book develops a conceptual framework for the evaluation of existing alternative approaches to grassroots preacher training It also proposes broad principles for effective preacher training and offers a practical solution The 20th century had seen the Christian church in Africa grow 36 fold to 360 million This amazing growth is arguably the largest religious change in human history in such a short period It has shifted the focus of Christianity from North to South This rapid growth is debatably considered by some missiologists and theologians to have resulted in an African church a mile wide and an inch deep That is a church of great size but lacking in spiritual depth The rapid growth has led to insufficient numbers of trained leaders being available to oversee their congregations Most leaders are unpaid Untrained or undertrained leaders have an inadequate knowledge of scripture and lack understanding of its interpretation They also lack the skills they need to communicate its truths Even so they preach up to 90% of the sermons in rural Africa Despite a tremendous hunger for training among many of those preachers traditional college based theological education cannot keep up with the demand for trained pastors and preachers in an affordable or culturally appropriate manner Understanding and Developing Theological Education Bernhard Ott, 2016-01-31 Historically education has been driven from behind the history and above the educational institution Traditions and adherence requirements have led to inflexible models of school leadership that are focused on administration and rife with educational politics In contrast today s theological landscape needs institutions with a grassroots driven educational system looking to a future that is biblically and theologically grounded This publication an English translation from the original German focuses on the leadership and curriculum development required for such a paradigm shift Ott comprehensively assesses trends in current theological education across the world with detailed reference to wider trends in global tertiary education Written primarily for those in leadership roles at theological schools and training institutions this handbook is an essential resource for equipping the next generation of leaders in theological education Towards a Malawian Theology of Laity Volker Glissmann, 2021-01-29 A key theological emphasis of the church is the priesthood of all believers This emphasis implies that lay empowerment and lay participation are central to what the church does Yet lay participation is a bit of an unfulfilled promise in many cases This book brings together church leaders theological educators as well as practitioners who are actively involved in lay ministry here in Malawi so that a stronger theology of laity for the Malawian church can emerge Diversified Theological Education F. Theological Education that Makes a Difference Henry G. Church, 2002

The Free Methodist Church became a phenomenon in Malawi around the time of independence when, in the spirit of the times and in the wake of a hundred years of Christian missionaries, new churches and missions were becoming popular. Since inception, this Church has grown by about ten percent a year. The author of this book attributes its success to a particular approach of theological education. Writing from a committed insider perspective, he outlines the missionaries' Chilinde approach in Malawi. The purpose of this educational philosophy is that the church should grow and that the growth of the faith is best mediated through its bible school, allowing both the Church and its theological school to mutually strengthen one another.

Theological Education for the Mission of the Church in India, 1947-1987 Siga Arles, 1991

Indian National independence and Church Union in the Church of South India both in 1947 demanded a rethinking on the part of the Indian Christians with regard to the mission of the Church in India, the meaning and methods of ministry and the role of theological education. This book is a study of the quest for relevance in Indian theological education during the period 1947 to 1987. This book studies concepts of mission such as the traditional evangelization and the modern participation in nation building, ministry as changing from the domination of male clergy to the participation of the laity and women, theological education as equipment of the whole church for wider involvement in Indian society within the context of poverty and religious pluralism. It deals with the four decades of thought development and indigenous experimentations simultaneously looking at the effect of the evangelical and ecumenical division of the church's understanding of her mission and ministry in India. While studying several seminaries, Tamil Nadu Theological Seminary is used as a case to illustrate the continuing process of the quest for relevance. An extensive bibliography, notes on people referred to and a directory of theological colleges are additional resources in this work.
