RJM A Public School of Your Own
Catherine Blakemore, 1998 International Journal of Educational Reform, 1997 A Notion at Risk Richard D.

Kahlenberg, 2000 The 2000 presidential campaign is ushering in a renewed focus on public education. The question is what would be best for our children. This volume of essays seeks to restore the notion that public education should be an engine for social mobility, a concern that animated Brown v. Board of Education and the 1965 Elementary and Secondary Education Act. It identifies the leading sources of inequality both in the home and in school and proposes concrete public policy remedies. The authors also examine the strengths and weaknesses of summer schooling, federal aid to education, standards, teacher enhancement, charter schools and zero tolerance policies. The contributors include Doris Entwistle, Karl Alexander and Linda Olson Johns Hopkins University, Richard Rothstein, Economic Policy Institute and Occidental College, Adam Gamaron, University of Wisconsin, Linda Darling-Hammond, Stanford University, Amy Stuart Wells, Jennifer Jellison Holme, Alejandra Lopez and Camille Wilson, Cooper University of California at Los Angeles, Paul Barton, Educational Testing Service and Ruy Teixeira, The Century Foundation. A Decade of Charter Schools Katrina Bulkley, Jennifer Fisler, 2002 School Choice and Social Controversy Stephen D. Sugarman, Frank R. Kemerer, 1999 In this important new volume, distinguished legal and public policy scholars address issues that are critical to the successful drafting and implementation of school choice programs yet are usually overlooked in the choice debate. They explore whether school choice is a threat or an opportunity to the many children who are largely deprived of choice today and they offer a variety of perspectives with some authors enthusiastic, others more skeptical. The book begins with a discussion of the types and extent of school choice, what is known about its consequences and how politics has influenced its development. It then focuses on three important public policy issues: how school choice can revolutionize the way schools are financed, what policy interventions are necessary to increase the supply of choice schools and how choice programs can be held accountable to parents and the state without undermining institutional autonomy. The book addresses legal issues including whether public and private choice schools will be required to observe student and teacher rights generally recognized in traditional public schools, how the religion and speech clauses of the First Amendment may affect the participation of religious schools in school choice programs, whether school choice will enhance or aggravate opportunities for racial justice, what the implications of school choice are for teacher unions and collective bargaining and whether children with disabilities will be accommodated in school choice programs under federal disability law Throughout the book the authors offer recommendations for public policy development The contributors are Jeffrey Henig Robert Bulman and David L Kirp Paul T Hill Robert M O Neil Jesse H Choper Betsy Levin William G Buss and Laura F Rothstein Stephen D Sugarman is Agnes Roddy Robb Professor of Law at the University of California Berkeley Frank R Kemerer is Regents Professor and director of the Center for the Study of Education Reform at the University of North Texas     Biennial Report of the President ,1922
