The Power of Historical Knowledge Susan L. Mizruchi, 2014-07-14 In this provocative study Susan Mizruchi argues that the act of writing history is the key to the political concerns of American novelists Using nineteenth century theories of history as well as recent narratological models she examines reconstructions of the past in The House of the Seven Gables 1851 The Bostonians 1886 The Wings of the Dove 1902 and An American Tragedy 1925 Her special focus allows us to see that the efforts on the part of characters and narrators alike to reshape the past reveal both anxieties about the self and larger struggles for political power Professor Mizruchi demonstrates the deepening connections between narrative and political coercion from Hawthorne to Dreiser whose novels as she further shows both incorporate and portray their characters incorporating the conditions of their contemporary worlds Her argument addresses a major contemporary dialogue on the subversive qualities of American texts and the place of history in literary interpretation Originally published in 1988 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905
