

The background of the book cover is a soft, painterly landscape. It depicts a wide body of water, possibly a lake or a bay, under a pale, hazy sky. In the distance, a range of low mountains or hills is visible. The foreground is filled with the dark, silhouetted branches of trees, some of which have small, light-colored blossoms or leaves, framing the scene on the left and bottom. The overall mood is serene and contemplative.

Miscellany One Poems Stories Broadcasts:

Miscellany One Dylan Thomas, 1974      Discovering Dylan Thomas John Goodby, 2017-03-31 Discovering Dylan Thomas is a companion to Dylan Thomas's published and notebook poems. It includes hitherto unseen material contained in the recently discovered fifth notebook alongside poems, drafts, and critical material including summaries of the critical reception of individual poems. The introductory essay considers the task of editing and annotating Thomas's reception of the Collected Poems and the state of the Dylan Thomas industry and the nature of Thomas's reading influences, allusions, and intertextuality. It is followed by supplementary poems including juvenilia and the notebook poems The Woman Speaks, original versions of Grief, thief of time, and I followed sleep, and Jack of Christ, all of which were omitted from the Collected Poems. These are followed by annotations beginning with a discussion of Thomas's juvenilia and the relationship between plagiarism and parody in his work. Poem by poem entries offer glosses, new material from the fifth notebook, critical histories for each poem, and variants of poems such as Holy Spring and On a Wedding Anniversary, including a magnificent previously unpublished first draft of A Refusal to Mourn. The closing appendices deal with text and publication details for the collections Thomas published in his lifetime, the provenance and contents of the fifth notebook, and errata for the hardback edition of the Collected Poems.

Cosmic Discoveries David H. Levy, 2010-09-09 For many millennia the starry night sky has been a source of wonder and awe to men and women who have tried to unravel the mystery of the billion distant lights that fill the heavens after dark. The story of the great discoverers who succeeded in explaining part of the mystery is told here with the joy and infectious enthusiasm that only a fellow discoverer can convey. David Levy, codiscoverer of Comet Shoemaker Levy 9 with his wife Wendee Wallach, Levy evokes that marvelous moment of Eureka as he masterfully relates each story. He gives the reader a glimpse of the enthralling adventure of cosmic discovery through stories of the most famous and brilliant astronomers. Beyond their personal accomplishments, these scientists expanded all of humanity's understanding of the universe and our place within it. For example, Galileo's breathtaking discovery of the moons of Jupiter, new worlds that refused to orbit the sun, challenged the whole doctrine of the earth being the center of the universe. With the start of the 20th century, Shapley pushed back the envelope that had been opened by Galileo by proving that the center of our galaxy is very far beyond our own sun. And Hubble showed that even our galaxy is but a tiny part of a universe that is rapidly expanding. In describing these milestones of science, Levy reveals his own spirited conversations with such luminaries of the imagination as the discoverer of the planet Pluto, Clyde Tombaugh, and one of the world's greatest science fiction writers, Sir Arthur C. Clarke. Through Levy's unique perspective on cosmic discovery, he is able to connect his own personal life story with that of astronomers of the past and by extension with the history of the whole universe. As the codiscoverer of the spectacular comet that crashed into Jupiter, Levy formulated a whole new range of exciting questions about the universe: Do comets serve to transport the elements of life from one planet to the next? What is the evidence that a large comet once hit the earth? Will the earth someday be in danger of colliding with another such comet and will we have the technology to stop it This fascinating book will excite any of us who have stared at the night sky in awe and amazement David Levy and Wendee Wallach Levy Vail AZ are continuing their ongoing search for new comets David Levy is the president of the Jarnac Observatory science editor for PARADE magazine a contributing editor to Sky and Telescope and Sky News magazines and the author of Starry Nights The Quest for Comets and Impact Jupiter among other books
