Make Poverty History Nicolas Sireau, 2008-11-27 An analysis of the production and consumption of the communications of Make Poverty History a high profile episode of social movement protest in the UK The book follows the campaign throughout its lifetime and explores how attitudes towards government and political opportunities influenced the negotiation of communications

Make Poverty History Geraldine Bedell, 2005 This year you can change the world Every single day 30 000 children around the world are dying from extreme poverty and Make Poverty History a huge global campaign has decided that 2005 is the year for this crisis to be taken in hand In the lead up to the G8 Summit in Scotland this July Make Poverty History will be campaigning heavily to influence the world leaders to finally do something about it Ending poverty is not about charity it s about justice The changes we need aren t monstrous or unimaginable But they will require everyone to do something this year This book tells you what and how Make poverty history in 2005 Make history in 2005 Then we can all stand with our heads held high NELSON MANDELA Trafalgar Square 2005

Make Poverty History Nicky Gumbel, 2005-01 Each day 6 500 Africans die of treatable diseases 800 million people go to bed hungry every night 2005 presents us all with an extraordinary opportunity to do something about arguably the greatest moral and ethical issue of our day extreme poverty In this booklet Nicky Gumble addresses some of the issues surrounding this subject and explains why the campaign to Make Poverty History is so significant

100 Ways to Make Poverty History John Madeley, 2005 On every page of this book is a simple action plan for making poverty history 100 simple but effective ideas that will make a real difference to the way that millions of people live in the developing world From getting your local newspaper involved to making personal choices about shopping food and travel everyone who buys this book can play an active part in changing the world for the better Every page includes step by step instructions with telephone numbers website addresses and detailed advice on how to get your message heard

The Africanization of Poverty Graham Harrison, 2014 This article explores the ways in which the British campaign coalition Make Poverty History represented Africa throughout 2005 Focusing particularly on the G8 Gleneagles summit Make Poverty History MPH asserted a series of justice claims which had no geographical reference Nevertheless as a result of internal tensions within the coalition and especially as a result of the ways in which MPH interacted with other political agencies as the summit approached MPH s messages became increasingly interpolated by references to Africa as a result of the emergence of government media and celebrity involvement The result of this was that global poverty increasingly became an African issue As 2005 became the Year of Africa the justice messages that constituted MPH were largely effaced by the more familiar imperial legacy which represents Africa as a place of indigence in need of outside assistance

Make Poverty History Make Poverty History Australia, 2008* Make Poverty History , Making Poverty Thomas Lines, Thomas Lines examines the role that global polices have played in creating the crisis of rural poverty He explains the mechanisms of the markets and supply chains charting their impact on agricultural trade in the world s
