Men and Women Making Friends in Early Modern France Lewis C. Seifert,Rebecca M. Wilkin,2016-03-03 Today the friendships that grab people s imaginations are those that reach across inequalities of class and race The friendships that seem to have exerted an analogous level of fascination in early modern France were those that defied the assumption inherited from Aristotle and patristic sources that friendships between men and women were impossible Together the essays in Men and Women Making Friends in Early Modern France tell the story of the declining intelligibility of classical models of male friendship and of the rising prominence of women as potential friends The revival of Plato s friendship texts in the sixteenth century challenged Aristotle s rigid ideal of perfect friendship between men In the seventeenth century a new imperative of heterosociality opened a space for the cultivation of cross gender friendships while the spiritual friendships of the Catholic Reformation modeled relationships that transcended the gendered dynamics of galanterie Men and Women Making Friends in Early Modern France argues that the imaginative experimentation in friendships between men and women was a distinctive feature of early modern French culture The ten essays in this volume address friend making as a process that is creative of self and responsive to changing social and political circumstances Contributors reveal how men and women fashioned gendered selves and also circumvented gender norms through concrete friendship practices By showing that the benefits and the risks of friendship are magnified when gender roles and relations are unsettled the essays in this volume highlight the relevance of early modern friend making to friendship in the contemporary world      Complete Works Thomas Brookes (Preacher at Margaret's, New Fish Street.),1866      Making Friends Dee Brestin,2013-09-30 Making friends is one of the most basic aspects of life so why does it often feel so difficult You reach out to others but they don t reach back You think you ve found a friend but then they let you down or move away How do you forge genuine friendships that provide the encouragement and support you need With understanding and      Making Friends, Making Disciples Lee B. Spitzer,2010 This first volume in Judson Press s Living Church series addresses the topic of church growth and discipleship For centuries the Christian church has led the way in creating communities of people Pastor Lee Spitzer proposes that today s church can sustain that leadership role by developing a transformative paradigm for church growthnot only in terms of the number of people who join but in regard to the maturity of disciples who participate in the life of the Body of Christ The key Spitzer
