Jinnah, Linlithgow and the Making of Pakistan Tilak Raj Sareen,2010-01-01 During the last sixty years historians have made efforts to explain the circumstances which led to the making of Pakistan There is no dearth of those who have blamed the Indian National Congress and its leaders for its creation The buedon of evidence however suggests that it was Jinnah President of All India Muslim League who got direct and indirect support from the Viceroy when the war began for achieving his aim of making a seperate homeland for the Muslims In this volume the author has shown by documentary evidence as to how this was achieved by Jinnah The documents collected from archival repositories in India and abroad shed considerable light on what transpired between Jinnah and Lord Linlithgow when the war started and how both conspired to prepare separate scheme to counter the claim of the Congress which became the basis of Pakistan. The documents also reveal how keen was the Viceroy that scheme should be unanimously approved by the Muslim League at its Lahore Session in March 1940. For cooperation with the British during the war Jinnah was given the assurance that in any constitutional change in India during or after the war the Muslims will have the right to decide their own destiny as per the Lahore or also known as the Pakistan Resolution. With an introduction and explanatory notes the author has done a commendable job of placing the documents for the scholars to pursue this subject in proper historical perspective.

Britain and the Making of Pakistan Ahmad Shujā' Pāshā, 1997 The Management of Pakistan's Economy, 1947-82 Viqar Ahmed, Rashid Amjad, 1984 The first volume in a series on Pakistan's economy this book investigates and analyzes the factors responsible for the economic policies followed in Pakistan from 1947 to 1982. Christian Living, Rural Communities, Recreation, Returning Veterans, World Peace Colorado State University. Library, Anton H. Anderson, Irene Coons Reese, Irene Mae Coons, James Goodwin Hodgson, John Campbell McKinnon, John VanMale, Milton Estes, Morris E. Paddick, Sarabjita Singha, 1915 Civil Society and Pakistan's Economy Fayyaz Baqir, 2023-03-17 This book analyses the paradoxes of Pakistan's economy meritocratic domestic policy and the role of the state and the civil society. It argues that the transition in the country's foreign policy from geo politics to geo economic depends on a fundamental domestic policy transition from kleptocracy to meritocracy. Civil Society and Pakistan's Economy discusses how the prevalence of rent seeking practices has undermined merit based practices by increasing the cost of doing business and converting public loss into private profit by awarding inappropriate subsidies and imposing regressive taxes. The analyses are supported by describing the instruments and mechanisms used for rent seeking practices and the creation of public awareness of options available to change these practices through citizen's action and civil society engagement. The book also shows the path of transformation and the role of participation and argues that aspiring for and capturing power is not the only way to transform Pakistan. A novel analysis depicting macro micro linkages of encroachment of socio economic space by the power elites and effective strategies used for its reappropriation by the people the book will be of interest to academics researching South Asian Studies in particular South Asian economics and politics.
