Making Of The Modern World:

The Making of the Modern World Christopher Condon,1987 The Making of the Modern World A. Macfarlane,2001-12-17 At the start of the third Christian millennium we are aware of massive political economic and ideological changes which condition the chances of liberty wealth and equality Yet it is surprisingly difficult for us to understand these forces for we cannot see what surrounds us so closely This book analyses our condition by looking at the work of two great thinkers one of whom provides a deep historical perspective the other a wide comparative analysis F W Maitland 1850 1906 was more than the greatest professional historian of modern times he was a philosopher who provides a brilliant sketch of how our strange world has come about particularly in his work on associations and trusts Yukichi Fukuzawa 1835 1901 more than any other created the institutions of modern Japan As an outsider he provides a brilliant insight into the heart of the new capitalist and industrial civilization which had emerged in the west The Origins of the Modern World Robert B. Marks,Robert Marks,2007 The Origins of the Modern World offers a refreshing alternative to Eurocentric histories by exploring the roles that Asia Africa and the New World played in creating the world we know today Starting in 1400 it brings the saga of the modern world to the present considering how and why the United States emerged as a world power in the 20th century and why Asia is experiencing resurgence now Genghis Khan and the Making of the Modern World Jack Weatherford,2005-03-22 NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER The startling true history of how one extraordinary man from a remote corner of the world created an empire that led the world into the modern age by the author featured in Echoes of the Empire Beyond Genghis Khan The Mongol army led by Genghis Khan subjugated more lands and people in twenty five years than the Romans did in four hundred In nearly every country the Mongols conquered they brought an unprecedented rise in cultural communication expanded trade and a blossoming of civilization Vastly more progressive than his European or Asian counterparts Genghis Khan abolished torture granted universal religious freedom and smashed feudal systems of aristocratic privilege From the story of his rise through the tribal culture to the explosion of civilization that the Mongol Empire unleashed this brilliant work of revisionist history is nothing less than the epic story of how the modern world was made The Making of the Modern World, from the Renaissance to the Present Richard Munthe Brace,1960 The Making of the Modern World. From the Renaissance to the Present. Second Edition - Enlarged. [With Illustrations.] Richard Munthe BRACE,1961 Great Land Rush and the Making of the Modern World, 1650-1900 John C. Weaver,2003 A critique of the greatest reallocation of resources in the history of the world and an analysis of its effects on indigenous peoples the growth of property rights and the evolution of ideas that make up the foundation of the modern world Day of Empire Amy Chua,2009-01-06 In this sweeping history bestselling author Amy Chua explains how globally dominant empires or hyperpowers rise and why they fall In a series of brilliant chapter length studies she examines the most powerful cultures in history from the ancient empires of Persia and China to the recent global empires of England and the United States and reveals the reasons behind their success as well as the roots of their ultimate demise Chua's analysis uncovers a fascinating historical pattern while policies of tolerance and assimilation toward conquered peoples are essential for an empire to succeed the multicultural society that results introduces new tensions and instabilities threatening to pull the empire apart from within What this means for the United States uncertain future is the subject of Chua's provocative and surprising conclusion The Cold War and the Making of the Modern World Martin Walker, 1993 Beskrivelse af Den kolde Krig og de mest markante hændelser og konflikter i denne periode Remaking the Modern World 1900 - 2015 C. A.

Bayly, 2018-10-22 The sequel and companion volume to C. A. Bayly's groundbreaking The Birth of the Modern World 1780-1914 this wide ranging and sophisticated study explores global history since the First World War offering a coherent comparative overview of developments in politics, economics and society at large. Written by one of the leading historians of his generation an early intellectual leader in the study of World History Weaves a clear narrative history that explores the themes of politics, economics, social, cultural and intellectual life throughout the long twentieth century. Identifies the themes of state, capital and communication as key drivers of change on a global scale in the last century and explores the impact of those ideas. Interrogates whether warfare was really the pre-eminent driving force of twentieth century history and what other ideas shaped the course of history in this period. Explores the causes behind the resurgence of local conflict rather than global scale conflict in the years since the turn of the millennium. Delves into the narrative of inequality a story that has shaped and been shaped by the events of the last hundred years. Part of The Blackwell History of the World Series. The goal of this ambitious series is to provide an accessible source of knowledge about the entire human past for every curious person in every part of the world. It will comprise some two dozen volumes of which some provide synoptic views of the history of particular regions while others consider the world as a whole during a particular period of time. The volumes are narrative in form giving balanced attention to social and cultural history in the broadest sense as well as to institutional development and political change. Each provides a systematic account of a very large subject but they are also both imaginative and interpretative. The Series is intended to be accessible to the widest possible readership and the accessibility of its volumes is matched by the style of presentation and production The Great War and the Making of the Modern World Jeremy Black, 2021-05-06 Casting aside conventional narratives of The Great War Jeremy Black returns to a vast range of original sources and investigates not only the key events of the war but its consequences in restructuring the old order. Black also considers the struggle not only in its historical context but also how it has been remembered and memorialised especially as the generation who experienced it firsthand are passing away. Now in paperback this book has been updated with a foreword and afterword to consider recent developments The Making of the Modern World; Book Three Thean Chye Neoh, 1960* The Making of the Modern World. Ed. D. Johnson Douglas William John JOHNSON, 1971 Making of the Modern World 6 Ivan Evans, Pamela Radcliff, 2009-03-01 The Making of the Modern World Douglas Johnson, 1971

The Making of the Modern World R. T. Robertson, Robert Thomas Robertson, 1986 Challenging Global Development Henning Melber, Uma Kothari, Laura Camfield, Kees Biekart, 2023-10-17 This open access book presents contributions to decolonize development studies. It seeks to promote and sustain new forms of solidarity and conviviality that work towards achieving social justice. Recognising global poverty and inequalities as historic injustices the book addresses how these can be challenged through teaching research and engagement in policy and practice and the sorts of political barriers these might encounter. From a variety of perspectives and contexts these chapters examine how decoloniality and solidarity can be developed offering in depth historical theoretical epistemological and empirical analyses Forces of Habit David T. Courtwright, 2001-03-23 He also shows how Europeans used alcohol as an inducement for native peoples to trade their furs sell captives into slavery and negotiate away their lands and how monarchs taxed drugs to finance their wars and expanding empires A The Making of the Modern World, 2018 The Making of the Modern World John Perritano, 2017 This volume Trade Economic Life and Globalization covers the economic devastation wrought by World War II the institutions that the Allies created to help nations recover from the war and how the Cold War bled into the economic arena. Consumerism and the emergence of the middle class in Western countries is also a major theme as are the challenges and promises created by the expansion of free trade and the collapsing of national economic boundaries.
