and mother shapes one's own life and has a deep influence on the success of one's own partnership on the relationship with one's own children and the satisfaction with one's own life. In my more than 25 years of work on reconciliation between children and parents 7 steps have emerged which are useful to come to peace with the parents in depth. In addition I talk about further blockades which come from the family system and which sometimes have to be dissolved. These steps and other important insights are conveyed practically in this book. You will experience the essence of my seminars and will be specifically instructed to take important steps inwardly. Making Peace with Your Parents Harold H. Bloomfield, Leonard Felder, 1985. No one book resolves a lifetime of hurts and misunderstandings but it can remove the blinders from our eyes. Make an effort now. LOS ANGELES TIMES No matter how old you are and whether or not your parents are alive you have to come to terms with them. This wise and practical book will show you how to deal with the most fundamental relationships in your life and in the process become the happy, creative and fulfilled person you are meant to be.

Making Peace With Your Emotional Disconnection With Your Parents Jasmine Cepeda, 2020-12-18. As a psychotherapist I have observed that many folks have trouble making peace with their emotionally disconnected, neglectful or superficial relationships with their parents. They have difficulty tolerating the loss and loneliness that so often describes not having a deep connection. It can be difficult to understand and accept your emotional detachment from your parents. The unprocessed tension can create obstacles in feeling safe in other relationships and in reparenting yourself being there for yourself. It can be even more difficult to explore your emotional disconnection when it requires coming face to face with the realities of your childhood. Integrating the past into your present experience can be painful. This guide focuses on making peace with your reality through building self understanding acceptance and mourning. Talking with Your Aging Parents Mark A. Edinberg, 1987. Strategies, skills and support for communicating effectively with elderly relatives on difficult issues like failing health, legal and financial matters and family problems.
