Never Chop Your Rope:

Never Chop Your Rope Joe Garner,1988     Beaten Down David Peterson del Mar,2011-10-01 Selected by Choice as an Outstanding Academic Title for 2003 The word violence conjures up images of terrorism bombings and lynchings Beaten Down is concerned with more prosaic acts of physical force a husband slapping his wife a parent taking a birch branch to a child a pair of drunken friends squaring off to establish who was the better man David Peterson del Mar accounts for the social relations of power that lie behind this intimate form of violence this white noise that has always been with us humming quietly between more explosive acts of violence Broad in its chronological and cultural sweep Beaten Down examines interpersonal violence in Washington Oregon and British Columbia beginning with Native American cultures before colonization and continuing into the mid twentieth century It contrasts the disparate ways of practicing and punishing interpersonal violence on each side of the U S Canadian border Del Mar concludes that we cannot comprehend the causes and moral consequences of a violent act without considering larger social relations of power whether between colonizers and original inhabitants between spouses between parents and children or between and among different ethnic groups The author has drawn on a vast array of vivid sources including newspaper accounts autobiographies novels oral histories historical and ethnographic publications and hundreds of detailed court cases to account for not only the relative frequency of different forms of violence but also the shifting definitions and perceptions of what constitutes violence This is a thoughtful and probing account of how and why people have hit each other and the manner in which opinion makers and ordinary citizens have censured defended or celebrated such acts Del Mar s conclusions have important implications for an understanding of violence and perceptions of violence in contemporary society

Harbour City Jan Peterson,2006 Peterson brings to life Nanaimo s people and the events that shaped it in this final volume of her trilogy     1958 Steve Carrier,2019-01-10 He s smart He might be a genius but in Resume Speed in 1958 they don t test for things like that Besides he doesn t know he s smart and it wouldn t change him if he did What he knows for sure is that if you let it life would be pretty funny He knows that the girlfriend he doesn t have the matchless Cheryl Loeb is twice the girlfriend his best friend doesn t have Finally he knows he has an enemy who is determined to destroy him and to him there s sport in that His name is Lawrence which in itself is not bad but his full name is Lawrence Lawrence and that should be felony In a mutinous act he renamed himself Gunnar and he s a rascal but not a scoundrel Somewhere wedged between those two words we find a surprising measure of both character and virtue In the main this is his story but it is also the story of an aging English teacher an underachieving underclassman the villain a girl the Communists a dead body puberty and what a smart kid does to stay sharp in an exceedingly dull place Welcome to a year in the life of Gunnar Lawrence who has both the good luck and the awful misfortune to grow up in the unremarkable little town of Resume Speed     Book Marketing Demystified Bruce T. Clearcutting the Pacific Rain Forest Richard A. Rajala, 2011-11-01 This book integrates class environmental and political analysis to uncover the history of clearcutting in the Douglas fir forests of B C Washington and Oregon between 1880 and 1965 Part I focuses on the mode of production analyzing the technological and managerial structures of worker and resource exploitation from the perspective of current trends in labour process research Rajala argues that operators sought to neutralize the variable forest environment by emulating the factory model of work organization The introduction of steam powered overhead logging methods provided industry with a rudimentary factory regime by 1930 accompanied by productivity gains and diminished workplace autonomy for loggers After a Depression inspired turn to selective logging with caterpillar tractors timber capital continued its refinement of clearcutting technologies in the post war period achieving complete mechanization of yarding with the automatic grapple Driving this process of innovation was a concept of industrial efficiency that responded to changing environmental conditions product and labour markets but sought to advance operators class interests by routinizing production The managerial component of the factory regime took shape in accordance with the principles of the early 20th century scientific management movement Requiring expertise in the organization of an expanded technologically sophisticated exploitation process operators presided over the establishment of logging engineering programs in the region's universities Graduates introduced rational planning procedures to coastal logging contributing to a rate of deforestation that generated a corporate call for technical forestry expertise after 1930 Industrial foresters then emerged from the universities to provide firms with data needed for long range investment decisions in land acquisition and management Part II constitutes an environmental and political history of clearcutting This reconstructs the process of scientific research concerning the factory regime's impact on the ecology of the Douglas fir forest assessing how knowledge was utilized in the regulation of cutting practices Analysis of business government relations in British Columbia Washington and Oregon suggests that the reliance of those client states on revenues generated by timber capital encouraged a pattern of regulation that served corporate rather than social and ecological ends    Islands in the Salish Sea Judi Stevenson, Sheila Harrington, 2005 Gorgeous fascinating and unconventional the Islands in the Salish Sea show aspects of the Gulf Islands that are most beloved by the residents from heritage orchards fishing spots and patches of endangered wild orchids to ancient First Nations sites and bird colonies The community on each island decided what elements should be depicted and local artists then created each of the magnificent and wildly different maps This volume is a treasure trove of cherished information that could have been lost presented with imagination and great beauty The Islands in the Salish Sea Community Mapping Project was coordinated by Sheila Harrington and Judi Stevenson who live on Salt Spring Island    Island Kids Tara Saracuse, 2011-02-01 This is a history of British Columbia's island children told in their voices from their perspectives Composed of twenty two stories Island Kids is a snapshot of a period and place in time The topics range from quintessentially coastal experiences like a day at the beach to stories that deal with serious issues such as BC's history of residential schools but they all remain true to the experience of the children telling the story At the end of each chapter is a section called What do we know for sure that gives the reader greater depth and context The stories are written in a dynamic and authentic voice and are aimed at readers aged eight to twelve Unlike history that has either been fictionalized or told from an adult's perspective the Courageous Kids series brings history to kids in their own words Truly original Kidmonton Rocky Mountain Kids and Island Kids strive to communicate the events and emotions of kids Please visit www.courageouskids.ca for more information on the whole Courageous Kids series    Working in the Woods Ken Drushka, 1992 A comprehensive history from rough and tough handlogging to modern day helicopter and skyline logging With generous oral histories and photographs old and new    Canadian Books in Print 2002 Edited by Butler Marian, Marian Butler, 2002-02 Containing more than 48000 titles of which approximately 4000 have a 2001 imprint the author and title index is extensively cross referenced It offers a complete directory of Canadian publishers available listing the names and ISBN prefixes as well as the street e mail and web addresses    The Canadian Who's who ,1998    Canadian Book Review Annual ,1988    Labour in British Columbia Dennis Pilon, 1997    Canadian Books in Print ,2001    Logging & Sawmilling Journal ,1989    Never Again William Starbuck Mayo, 1873    The West Beyond the West Jean Barman, 1991    Witch Hunt in the B.C.
