Air University Library Index to Military Periodicals ,1996 Latin American Business Werner Baer,Geoffrey Hewings,2014-05-22 Examine the costs and benefits of fiscal wars between Brazilian states Latin American Business examines Brazil's use of fiscal incentives to attract investors to help remedy disparities in the country's regional distribution of income Since the 1990s individual Brazilian states have taken the initiative in trying to lure domestic and foreign firms to locate within their borders targeting the automotive industry textiles and shoe production But their efforts have led to mixed results and questions about whether these fiscal wars have been legitimate attempts at regional economic development or simply a distortion in the allocation of resources This insightful collection of case studies and essays sheds considerable light on the issue For several generations the notion has been debated both in advanced industrial countries and in developing countries that regional differences in income will gradually be eliminated as poor regions where money is scarce but labor is not benefit from the inflow of investments In reality this has rarely happened Latin American Business examines why that has been the case in Brazil The book's contributors fuel this continuing debate analyzing topics that include Bahia's efforts to attract a Ford plant the Mercedes Benz project in Juiz de Fora the case of Renault in Paraná fiscal incentive programs in Pernambuco and the tax incentive policies of Ceará Latin American Business includes an evaluation of the costs and benefits of federal and state incentives given to Ford Motor Company to attract a plant in Bahia an analysis of the use of state and municipal incentives by the state of Minas Gerais in dealing with Mercedes Benz Corporation a look at Paraná's agreement with Renault and the degree to which it has created jobs and attracted other investments an examination of structural changes in the Brazilian automotive industry a look at the Brazilian automotive industry in the 1990s an evaluation of the results of Pernambuco's fiscal incentives program from 1996 to 2003 a discussion of the economic logic for tax incentives a look at the economic effects of regional tax incentives and much more Latin American Business is an essential resource for academics business practitioners public policymakers and anyone working in the international development community

Market Liberalism, Growth, and Economic Development in Latin America Gerardo Angeles Castro,Ignacio Perrotini-Hernández,Humberto Ríos-Bolívar,2011-05-15 The principal themes pursued in this book emerge from the great transformation that the Latin American and the Caribbean economies experienced in the aftermath of both the foreign debt crisis of 1982 and the macroeconomic stabilisation policies that vividly and painfully produced the so called lost decade of the 1980s Latin America implemented an economic liberalisation process during the late 1980s and the 1990s The main policy reforms involved in that course can be summarized as privatization of state owned firms trade openness deregulation of the foreign direct investment FDI regime and fiscal discipline Latin American countries have also embarked in regional trade agreements the most important ones being Mercosur and the North American Free trade Agreement NAFTA This book compares results from the experience of North South and South South moulds of integration Thus the impacts of these policies on growth development technological progress poverty and inequality are analysed Orthodox and heterodox economic policies and theories are discussed along with relevant empirical evidence with a view to assess on the one hand the relative merits of the various policy reforms applied by different countries in the region and on the other the experience of integration into the global economy There are thirteen chapters in this collection linked in varying ways to the series of economic reforms introduced in the region in the last decades The book will be of interest to academics researchers students and policymakers interested in the study of economic development in emerging economies and in particular in Latin America
