This Collection invites original research reviews and theoretical perspectives on the intersection of combat sports with health, well-being, and inclusion. Topics may include but are not limited to:

- Psychological benefits of combat sports such as reduced anxiety, stress, and depression, or enhancements in self-esteem, resilience, and emotional regulation.
- Physical health outcomes of combat sports, particularly for those facing barriers to traditional physical activity like people with disabilities or chronic health conditions.
- Combat sports as tools for social inclusion and community building, with a focus on marginalized groups including individuals with disabilities, ethnic minorities, or socioeconomically disadvantaged communities.
- Adaptive combat sports programs for individuals with disabilities, examining their impact on well-being and social integration.
- Risks and challenges of combat sports participation, including injury prevention, long-term health implications, and the mental toll of competition.
- Interdisciplinary approaches to integrating combat sports into therapeutic, educational, and rehabilitation settings for well-being and inclusion.

We encourage contributions from various fields including sports science, psychology, rehabilitation, education, and sociology. Manuscripts should offer empirical findings, innovative practices, or theoretical advancements that deepen the understanding of how combat sports can enhance well-being and inclusion. This research topic invites submissions from authors worldwide, emphasizing interdisciplinary and cross-cultural perspectives. Our aim is to generate a comprehensive dialogue that enriches academic understandings of combat sports and informs practical applications for promoting health, mental well-being, and social inclusion.
