Machine Translation:

Repairing Texts Hans P. Krings, 2001 This study challenges the idea that given the effectiveness of machine translation major costs could be reduced by using monolingual staff to post edit translations It presents studies of machine translation systems and current research into translation process

Statistical Machine Translation Philipp Koehn, 2009-12-17 The dream of automatic language translation is now closer thanks to recent advances in the techniques that underpin statistical machine translation This class tested textbook from an active researcher in the field provides a clear and careful introduction to the latest methods and explains how to build machine translation systems for any two languages It introduces the subject s building blocks from linguistics and probability then covers the major models for machine translation word based phrase based and tree based as well as machine translation evaluation language modeling discriminative training and advanced methods to integrate linguistic annotation The book also reports the latest research presents the major outstanding challenges and enables novices as well as experienced researchers to make novel contributions to this exciting area Ideal for students at undergraduate and graduate level or for anyone interested in the latest developments in machine translation

Neural Machine Translation Philipp Koehn, 2020-06-18 Deep learning is revolutionizing how machine translation systems are built today This book introduces the challenge of machine translation and evaluation including historical linguistic and applied context then develops the core deep learning methods used for natural language applications Code examples in Python give readers a hands on blueprint for understanding and implementing their own machine translation systems The book also provides extensive coverage of machine learning tricks issues involved in handling various forms of data model enhancements and current challenges and methods for analysis and visualization Summaries of the current research in the field make this a state of the art textbook for undergraduate and graduate classes as well as an essential reference for researchers and developers interested in other applications of neural methods in the broader field of human language processing

Machine translation for everyone: Empowering users in the age of artificial intelligence Dorothy Kenny , 2022-07-06 Language learning and translation have always been complementary pillars of multilingualism in the European Union Both have been affected by the increasing availability of machine translation MT language learners now make use of free online MT to help them both understand and produce texts in a second language but there are fears that uninformed use of the technology could undermine effective language learning At the same time MT is promoted as a technology that will change the face of professional translation but the technical opacity of contemporary approaches and the legal and ethical issues they raise can make the participation of human translators in contemporary MT workflows particularly complicated Against this background this book attempts to promote teaching and learning about MT among a broad range of readers including language learners language teachers trainee translators translation teachers and professional translators It presents a rationale for learning about MT and provides both a basic introduction to contemporary machine learning based MT and a more advanced discussion of neural MT It explores the ethical issues that increased use of MT raises and provides advice on its application in language learning It also shows how users can make the most of MT through pre editing post editing and customization of the technology

The Human Factor in Machine Translation

Sin-wai Chan,2018-05-08 Machine translation has become increasingly popular especially with the introduction of neural machine translation in major online translation systems However despite the rapid advances in machine translation the role of a human translator remains crucial As illustrated by the chapters in this book man machine interaction is essential in machine translation localisation terminology management and crowdsourcing translation In fact the importance of a human translator before during and after machine processing cannot be overemphasised as human intervention is the best way to ensure the translation quality of machine translation This volume explores the role of a human translator in machine translation from various perspectives affording a comprehensive look at this topical research area This book is essential reading for anyone involved in translation studies machine translation or interested in translation technology

Post-editing of Machine Translation Laura Winther Balling,Michael Carl,Sharon O'Brian,2014-03-17 Post editing is possibly the oldest form of human machine cooperation for translation It has been a common practice for just about as long as operational machine translation systems have existed Recently however there has been a surge of interest in post editing among the wider user community partly due to the increasing quality of machine translation output but also to the availability of free reliable software for both machine translation and post editing As a result the practices and processes of the translation industry are changing in fundamental ways This volume is a compilation of work by researchers developers and practitioners of post editing presented at two recent events on post editing The first Workshop on Post editing Technology and Practice held in conjunction with the 10th Conference of the Association for Machine Translation in the Americas held in San Diego in 2012 and the International Workshop on Expertise in Translation and Post editing Research and Application held at the Copenhagen Business School in 2012

Machine Translation of Languages

William Nash Locke,Andrew Donald Booth,1955
Machine Translation Yorick Wilks,2008-10-30 Machine Translation MT is both an engineering technology and a measure of all things to do with languages and computers whenever a new theory of language or linguistics is offered an important criteria for its success is whether or not it will improve machine translation This book presents a history of machine translation MT from the point of view of a major writer and innovator in the subject It describes and contrasts a range of approaches to the challenges and problems of this remarkable technology by means of a combination of historic papers along with commentaries to update their significance both at the time of their writing and now This volume chronicles the evolution of conflicting approaches to MT towards a somewhat skeptical consensus on future progress Also included is a discussion of the most recent developments in the field and prospects for the future which have been much changed by the arrival of the World Wide Web      On Machine Translation Paul L. Garvin, 2019-01-14 No detailed description available for On Machine Translation      Machine Translation John Lehrberger, Laurent Bourbeau, 1988-01-01 The use of the computer in translating natural languages ranges from that of a translator's aid for word processing and dictionary lookup to that of a full fledged translator on its own However the obstacles to translating by means of the computer are primarily linguistic To overcome them it is necessary to resolve the ambiguities that pervade a natural language when words and sentences are viewed in isolation The problem then is to formalize in the computer these aspects of natural language understanding The authors show how from a linguistic point of view one may form some idea of what goes on inside a system's black box given only the input original text and the raw output translated text before post editing Many examples of English French translation are used to illustrate the principles involved      Sign Language Machine Translation Andy Way, Lorraine Leeson, Dimitar Shterionov, 2024-11-11 This book for the first time collects important current topics in the area of sign language translation in a single volume The topic is introduced more generally to benefit newcomers to the field before diving into the current state of the art methods of Sign Language Machine Translation SLMT together with an in depth description of issues specific to this topic including an introduction to and historical overview of SLMT ethical issues related to the engagement of and with deaf users the importance of data the sign languages of Europe sign language recognition and synthesis including via avatars data driven and linguistically informed models of SLMT gloss translation fingerspelling SLMT communication and SLMT in practice Of interest to MT developers and users as well as people working in deaf studies this volume presents cutting edge research on machine translation in the field of deaf studies      How to Augment Language Skills Anthony Pym, Yu Hao, 2024-08-15 How to Augment Language Skills outlines ways in which translators and language providers can expand their skillset and how translation technologies can be integrated into language learning and translator training This book explains the basics of generative AI machine translation and translation memory suites placing them in a historical context and assessing their fundamental impacts on language skills It covers what to teach in a specific context how to teach it how to assess the result and how to set up lively class discussions on the many problematic aspects The exploratory empirical approach is designed to reach across several divides between language education and translation studies between technology designers and users between Western and Asian research and between abstract ideas and hands on practice Features include Fifty seven technology related activities for the language and or translation class Recent research on the capacities of generative AI Examples of how to conduct a needs analysis in the Higher Education context Comparisons of the main teaching methods Ways to assess the use of technologies Examples in Chinese Spanish Catalan French and German A full glossary explaining the key terms in clear language Drawing on years of classroom experience Pym and Hao illustrate how these skills can be taught in a range of classroom and online activities making this essential reading for teachers and researchers involved in the teaching of languages and the training of translators

Machine Translation and Translation Theory Christa Hauenschild, Susanne Heizmann, 2011-08-02 The series serves to propagate investigations into language usage especially with respect to computational support This includes all forms of text handling activity not only interlingual translations but also conversions carried out in response to different communicative tasks Among the major topics are problems of text transfer and the interplay between human and machine activities

Machine Translation Thierry Poibeau, 2017-09-29 A concise nontechnical overview of the development of machine translation including the different approaches evaluation issues and major players in the industry The dream of a universal translation device goes back many decades long before Douglas Adams's fictional Babel fish provided this service in The Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy Since the advent of computers research has focused on the design of digital machine translation tools computer programs capable of automatically translating a text from a source language to a target language This has become one of the most fundamental tasks of artificial intelligence This volume in the MIT Press Essential Knowledge series offers a concise nontechnical overview of the development of machine translation including the different approaches evaluation issues and market potential The main approaches are presented from a largely historical perspective and in an intuitive manner allowing the reader to understand the main principles without knowing the mathematical details The book begins by discussing problems that must be solved during the development of a machine translation system and offering a brief overview of the evolution of the field It then takes up the history of machine translation in more detail describing its pre digital beginnings rule based approaches the 1966 ALPAC Automatic Language Processing Advisory Committee report and its consequences the advent of parallel corpora the example based paradigm the statistical paradigm the segment based approach the introduction of more linguistic knowledge into the systems and the latest approaches based on deep learning Finally it considers evaluation challenges and the commercial status of the field including activities by such major players as Google and Systran

Machine Translation Makoto Nagao, 1989 A lucid account of the process of machine translation Nagao engineering Kyoto U details recent developments in MT systems and makes suggestions for their utilization The book will interest general readers Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Breaking Down the Language Barriers Colin Haynes, 1998 Readers can download from the Internet a copy of Translator The software is designed to work with either Word for Windows 6 or 7 Back cover

Linguistic Aspects in Machine Translation Alexander Täuschel, 2008-10-24 Project Report from the year 2006 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Other grade 1 3 University of Frankfurt Main Institut für England und Amerikastudien course Translation and Intercultural Communication language English abstract This paper will give a general overview of the venture that is machine translation with particular focus on linguistic aspects It will display history of MT and will deal with some of the major issues in the realisation of MT like the difficulty of translating prepositions or integrating semantics as well as the importance of real world knowledge To illustrate these difficulties with examples on a basic level a practice test with a moderately complex translation engine provided by Google has been carried out and will be explained Finally I am going to introduce three of the largest and most powerful translation machines currently in use I will also give a brief over view of methods of MT The aim of this paper is to show that the realisation of the primal idea of machine translation in its original sense which was to perform translation without human intervention except during the construction phase of the system is still markedly far away at present and machines are still unlikely to take over the jobs of human translators

Early Years in Machine Translation W. John Hutchins, 2000-01-01 This title details the history of the field of machine translation MT from its earliest years It glimpses major figures through biographical accounts recounting the origin and development of research programmes as well as personal details and anecdotes on the impact of political and social events on MT developments
